Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer is contacting CAC quite upset that the dealership inspected his vehicle and found that recall N62 was not applicable to his vehicle. His friend got his vehicle fixed under N62 and customer states that a week after the inspection, his vehicles left tie rod end broke and him and his wife could have been killed. Agent explained N62 recall and letter that customer received. As per AC24057
(IMPORTANT: This recall only applies to vehicles that had certain Mopar service parts steering components installed.
Subject:
A Mopar service parts steering linkage may have been installed on some of the 705,000 of the above vehicles during a prior service appointment. The left tie rod ball stud on the Mopar service parts steering linkage may fracture under certain driving conditions. This could cause a loss of directional control and/or a crash without warning.
Repair:
The steering linkage assembly must be inspected and replaced if required.
NOTE: The initial steering linkage inspection process can be done by write-up personnel in the write-up area (see Section A. of the service procedure). Vehicles found with original style steering linkage can be immediately returned to the customer.
Customer asked to speak to a safety department, agent explained that he must not have had a Mopar part put in his vehicle, but his friend did. Customer would not listen to agent and stated that he would call his State Attorney. Agent explained that she would gladly have called his dealership but they were closed. Customer stated why would agent call dealership and stated that was fine and he had nothing else to talk about after arguing with agent for about 5 minutes.
Agent did not see too much dealership activity.

Recall - N62: LEFT OUTER TIE ROD ASSEMBLY - Information Request	seeking information

Customer is calling because his tie rod end broke on the right side and his vehicle ended up in a ditch. Customer states that when the tow truck picked the vehicle up he inquired about why the customer did not have the recall completed because there was one issued on the 2007 s. Customer states that he had his vehicle towed to a Chrysler dealership but that they were unable to work on it the same day so he had the work completed at an IRF. Customer is now seeking compensation for the repairs and wondering why he had not received notice. Agent advised that he does have two incomplete recalls on his vehicle. Agent advised the customer that the faulty component for recall N62 was not installed on his vehicle because in 11/05/2009 when the customer was inspected for H46, he passed the inspection. Agent advised to take his vehicle to a Chrysler dealership so that they can document N62 as completed and reprogram his ECM. Agent contacted Lithia Chrysler 45099Ù and spoke with SA Ryan who verified that the faulty component was not installed. Customer stated that he would absorb the expense for the tie rod end.

Recall - N62: LEFT OUTER TIE ROD ASSEMBLY - Information Request

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler:Customer called stating his tie rod has broke. Customer doesnt know what they mean by the left and right because there are two ways to look at the vehicle and if he is looking at the front end it would be the left tie rod. Customer purchased the vehicle in November and didnt know that the recall he has is a recall within a recall. Customer asked if we would pay for a tow and a rental vehicle. Agent stated once he gets his vehicle to the dealership gets a diagnosis and if the dealership stated that it is due to a recall then the customer would be able to submit for reimbursement consideration.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting:Customer is expecting to get his vehicle repaired.
The customer is upset because the previous agent did not know that the recall was on the drivers side not the passenger side which was the side that failed. The customer also states that the dealership cannot handle the larger trucks and now he has to get towed to another shop. The customer says he is upset because the part failed and its just lucky he was not traveling at high at the time of failure. The customer states that he will go to the news about this as he claims it is a known problem and chrysler should do something about it.
Customer has requested Supervisor callback
Preferred daytime number: [redacted]
Reason for request: The customer is upset because he paid $85 for a tow because the first agent did not know if it was the left side or drivers side or the right or passenger side and was told to have the vehicle towed to the dealership. The dealership cannot even work on the vehicle as its too big. The customer also feels the recall should be on both sides.
CAIR assigned to: nc603
CSR has informed customer a Supervisor callback request has been made, and the customer will receive a callback within 24 hours.

The customer states that Sherwood Chrysler in Salisbury Md has a left tie rod in stock they would put in if Chrysler approves. The agent confirmed the dealership does have the left tie rod but they understood that the left tie rod was the one that broke not the right. They could repair the right tie rod but the left tie rod would go to the next person on the list and the customer would have to wait his turn to get a left tie rod as his has not yet failed. The customer wants us to pay the tow to that dealership and replace both tie rods now.
Customer called in very unhappy. Customer stated that he was completely mislead by an agent on saturday. Customer stated that the agent didn t know any information about the recall and advised him to have it towed out of pocket to the dealership. Customer stated that if he had known it wasn t for the right side he would have towed it else where and it could have been repaired sooner. Customer stated that he is now waiting for the part at the dealership and it could take a week to get there. Customer stated that the dealership told him it is sometimes on both sides depending on what they had replaced on the previous recall. Customer stated that the dealership advised him that the front end steering linkage has been completely redesigned. Customer stated that if that is the case the Chrysler is aware there is an issue with both sides and they should have issued a recall for both side. Customer stated that he is trying to be reasonable because when the tie rod broke he was on his way home from the hospital with his five year old. Customer stated that he is doing his research on the issue and has found many many things wrong with this recall. Customer stated that he will go to the media about this issue if Chrysler will not do right by him as a customer. Customer stated that he is upset that he had to pay out of pocket for towing on the word of an agent who could not tell him anything about the recall besides the parts are on back order.
Agent advised customer that if the issue doesn t fall under the recall it would be an out of pocket repair. Agent advised customer that it is the left side from the drivers point of view. Agent advised customer that the towing would be out of pocket at this point no matter what. Agent offered to call the dealership and see if they are willing to help the customer out but the customer declined. Customer stated that he requested a supervisor call back this morning and would still like to talk to them to see what they can do. Agent advised customer that can still happen and he would need to wait 1 business day. Customer stated that he will definetly go to the media if he needs to so that Chrysler is held accountable.
Customer calling back because he was expecting his supervisor call to be within 24 hours. Agent advised customer that it is one business day and that the call will still happen. Customer disconnected call.

N49 recall
 END EMAIL BRIEF DESCRIPTION CONTENT *****
I have been on a list with Larry H, Miller since January 2014 to get the left front tie rod replaced. LH Miller tells me that I am 212th on the list and they are working on # 57. How important is this recall. I tow a 19K trailer and would not like this tie rod to break. I cannot imagine the loss of control while towing a 42 ft trailer. LHM is telling me that you, Daimler is only sending one tie rod at a time. Come on folks is this another General motors, I don t care. Please send more tie rods so I can get my truck fixed before I leave Utah in the fall. I travel 6 months of the year now that I have retired. Lets get this fixed,[redacted] Tooele Utah[redacted] .Hurry before I wreck.

Dear [redacted],
Thank you for contacting the Dodge Customer Assistance Center.
I regret the problem your vehicle has experienced and appreciate the time and effort you took to bring this matter to our attention.
If a recalled item becomes defective after it has been replaced then it will be covered by Chrysler like a normal recall. However, your dealership will have to perform a diagnosis to determine if the recalled part has become defective before any recall repair work can be done. As well, if the original part has been replaced after the original installation or any form of negligence has occurred with the part itself, it will not be covered by Chrysler.
Once your vehicle has been diagnosed by a dealer, please advise by responding to this email message using the link below or calling Dodge Customer Assistance at 1-800-423-6343 and we will then direct your concern to the appropriate area to assist you further.
Thank you again for your email. Should you require additional assistance, or have any new information to provide, please reply to this email message or call 1-800-4A-DODGE (1-800-423-6343).

Customer stated she had gone to her local dealer when she received the first letter and they preformed a quick inspection. Customer stated just prior to getting to the dealer the right tie rod broke and required replacement. Customer stated they were advised that isn t covered under the recall. Agent advised customer if the dealer did the recall inspection. Agent advised that would have been done to determine if the vehicle had factory parts or replacement steering linkage. Agent advised if they had the factory parts then the dealer was correct it wouldn t have been covered. Agent apologized they had that experience.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: recall inquiry Customer seeking to have the cost of the upper and lower ball joints on both the left, right side of the truck covered. Customer states the dealership 45342 stated to customer the recall for the tie rod end is what caused the ball joints to become loose. Agent contacted dealership, spoke to SA Gary which stated the vehicle is at the dealership for the state inspection and the ball joints on both sides do need to be replaced but does not believe it is because of the recall. SA states the ball joints are to loose to pass the State inspection and that is why they need to be replaced. Agent informed customer we will not be covering the cost of the ball joints as it is no fault of the the recall and they are a wear and tear item on the vehicle.

Recall - N62: LEFT OUTER TIE ROD ASSEMBLY - Other	needs diagnosis to determine if this is part for N62
Corporate - Survey By-Pass - No Diagnosis - Default - Default

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer states that she had the vehicle towed to the dealership as her daughter was driving the vehicle and something snapped in the vehicle.
The customer states the vehicle was there previously for another recall and was told everything was fine. The customer states the vehicle started shaking and something snapped. The vehicle was not in an accident and there was not fire involved. The customer states the vehicle was safely pulled over and then towed to the dealership.
Agent called the dealership and spoke to Johnathan - SA.
Johnathan states:
1. On Dec 12/04/2013 the caller came in and had the H46 recall. The vehicle was inspected and found that the part did not have to be replaced. There were two designs that were used and the customers did not need to be replaced.
2. Then days after the customer left the dealership the N62 recall came out. The customer told the dealership that she just a letter a week or two ago about the N62. The customer did not contact the dealership at all in regard to the N62 recall to have the vehicle inspected.
The vehicle is now at the dealership as the customer had it towed there at something snapped in the vehicle. The vehicle just arrived and had not yet been diagnosed yet. Johnathan states that the passengers side tie rod broke and normally it is the drivers side.
If the recall part is needed the dealership does have the part in stock.
Johnathan states it has yet to be determined what snapped with a full diagnosis. Johnathan states it may not be the part stipulated in the recall. The diagnosis needs to be completed.
Agent is sending file for survey bypass - recall not completed or determined.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: Caller seeking to place complaint on file that part snapped in vehicle.
Customer is calling back to find out why his tie rod isn t covered. When he brought it in to the dealer, they told him that it was the right tie rod that broke, not the one that s covered under the recall.

Customer was upset that he now has to fork over 900.00 to replace a tie rod that isn t covered. Customer asked why they would say everything was fine when he was last in to get it inspected. Agent advised customer, that was when he was in last and things change over months.
Agent apologized and advised will document his complaint and concerns.

Writer spoke to SA Jeremy at DLr 26100 who states the vehicle was inspected and they have determined that the part was required and the customer was on put on their waiting list. Customer states is currently 8 on the waiting list and will be contacted when the part was in. Writer advised SA that customer was seeking documentation about the part availability and SA states he would have none to provide and writer transferred customer to SA for further assistance.

Customer is contacting CAC having had an accident with his tie rods breaking. Customers tie rods broke and he ended up hitting a fire hydrant and going in the ditch. Steering linkage also broke and hit the ground.
Customer has owned vehicle since about 2007 and the H46 recall has been on vehicle since 2009 and customer was never told by his dealership about the recall and he had transmission replaced in Nov. 2009. Has been in hospital since yesterday after ambulance was called to pick him up.

****
Drivers side airbag did not go off. Customer went right between two pine trees and ditch was rocks for erosion (rocks about the size of a football). Tires were crisscrossed when tie rods broke and tires hit fire hydrant first and then he spun around and hit the ditch.
****
Police were called and 2 police cars and 2 fire trucks, customer was in shock and that is why he never went in the ambulance at that time. Customer was in hospital overnight for bruises and cuts.
****
Vehicle was towed to customers house and it is in the driveway.
****
Accident happened about 7pm Sunday July 6th and customer went to hospital by ambulance at 12:26am Monday July 7th and just being released Monday July 7th at 9:00am. Truck is only driven by customer or once awhile his wife.
****
Customer has not called insurance company yet. Police filed accident report and customer has all records of the police report.
****
Customers name: [redacted] (vehicle is owned by his mother and him)
Address: [redacted], Fairburn, GA [redacted]
Phone: [redacted]
****
Agent contacted dealership and spoke to SA Rebecca who stated that customer has not been in their dealership since 2008 for any service. Agent also spoke to SA Jason who looked at customers vehicle on Thurs. July 3rd and stated that the N62 recall did not apply to him. SA Jason stated to agent that he did not look up the N62 on the customers vehicle, that he just took the customers word for the N62, so he would have missed the H46 recall and no one has ever fixed it for this customer.
****
Customer still states that above dealership put the transmission in on Nov. 2009. In 2009 customers brother (Donald West) had called in to CAC and was told about the H46 recall and that he would call dealership and have that recall done.
Recall H46 was never completed then.

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: customer states that in January 2014 the right tie rod end broke on his vehicle and the steering linkage was then replaced. Customer states that he had a notice for Recall H46 in 2011 and was advised it does not apply to his vehicle therefore there were no repair completed at that time. Agent informed that there is no relation between Recall H46 and Recall N62 as one is for the steering damper and the other is for the steering linkage. Recall - N62: LEFT OUTER TIE ROD ASSEMBLY - Advise Owner/Incomplete Recall	recall on vin

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer states his left outer tie rod broke this morning.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: Customer is expecting to have recall completed and reimbursed at an IRF. Agent stated at a dlr both parts and labor will be paid for and at an IRF only the parts may be paid for if Mopar parts are used. Customer states last recall he took to a dlr and they only paid for the parts not the labor. Agent asked if they kept the documents, customer stated they did not. Customer stated he will have recall completed at the IRF.
CONTACT UPDATE: Customer recontacted offices, states their IRF had spoken with Dealer and determined an entire left/right linkage assembly would have to be purchased. Customer inquired if this would be covered. Agent inquired if part on vehicle was original factory or a service replacement part. Customer states it was factory. Agent apologized, advised the recall N62 only applied to service parts that had been installed after vehicle let factory.
Customer states the part is factory, however inquired how he could verify this. Agent advised the only method to verify was to have vehicle inspected by Dealer to determine merits of recall. Customer inquired who would pay for tow, Agent advised towing charges would be at Customers discretion. Customer felt this was unacceptable, ended call.
Customer had the part replaced on vehicle as the part was broken on the vehicle. Customer is confused as to why the recall notice is just coming in and why they have to have the part replaced once more if it was just replaced. Customer understands that the vehicle will have to be at a DLR to have an inspection to be deemed if it needs a replacement or not.
Agent provided customer with case number as they will be going to the Chrysler Dodge DLR to find more information.

Recall - N49: LEFT TIE ROD - Information Request	seeking N49 assistance
Corporate - Survey By-Pass - No Repair - Default - Default

Customer contacted in seeking assistance for recall N49. Customer states that his tie rod has twisted at the ball joint. Customer states that because the tie rod is twisted, his vehicle shakes and the vehicle is undrivable. Customer states that the dealership Ryan Chrysler 08701Ù advised them that it is going to still take months to get to his vehicle. Customer is seeking a rental vehicle or to have the recall completed sooner.
Customer is seeking N49 assistance
Agent advised the customer that he has recall N49 as well as L38. Agent contacted Ryan Chrysler 08701Ù and spoke with SA Mason who advised that it will be a few months until the customers vehicle can be repaired as they have completed about fifty N49 repairs (Customer has approximately 185 customer before him on the list). SA advised that they are unable to diagnose the vehicle until August 8th. SA advised that they can not push the customer up the waiting list as the customer s tie rod is not broken or fractured. Agent contacted R.M Stoudt 45353Ù and spoke with SA Rob who advised that they were also unable to push the customer up their waiting list without a fracture. SA advised that they have roughly 80 customers on their waiting list and would add the customer.
Agent advised the customer that she has contacted R.M Stoudt on his behalf and placed him on their N49 recall list instead of Ryan Chrysler as they appear they will be able to contact him for an appointment in about half of the time. Agent advised the customer that he will have to wait until he receives a call to have the recall completed. Agent advised the customer to contact us back if his tie rod fractures or breaks. Agent advised the customer that enterprise does not carry our 2500 series trucks so a rental vehicle would not be of assistance to him. Customer stated that he understood and would wait until he receives contact from R.M.
Agent did not provide customer with his place on the waiting list or any estimate of customers before him or on the existing waiting lists at the dealerships.

Recall - L16: LEFT TIE ROD END - Other	L16 recall put the bolt in wrong place
Recall - N49: LEFT TIE ROD - Other	LEFT TIE ROD
Corporate - Dealer Information - Default - Default - Default	PERFORMANCE CHRYSLER DODGE JEEP
Product - Drivability - Unknown - Other - Default	Vibration in the front end of the vehicle
Dealer - By-Pass - Default - Default - Default

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler:
Customer called and stated that the left tie rod is bent. Agent contacted PERFORMANCE CHRYSLER DODGE JEEP to speak with Rusty SA who stated that the vehicle just drove into the shop, and the vehicle is in the process of being diagnosed. If it is broken it may be a week before he gets the part for the customer. According to dlr the other dlr that did the L16 recall put the bolt in wrong place (bolt bent frame). Tie rod is fine, so he needs the recall and bolt replaced. Customer is on the list for the N49 recall as well.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting:
Call to dlr to determine whether the L16 is a related problem to the issue at hand, dlr stated previous dlr put bolt in wrong place.
Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer called to state his vehicle has now been diagnosed and requires a sleeve and the bolts along with the recalled part. The customer is 38 on the list and the dealership is unable to provide the part before then. Customer states the dealership has no consideration for safety as Chrysler does.
Contacted the dealership and spoke to Rusty - SM. Dealer states he is going to take care of the cost for the sleeve and the bolts has the previous recall was performed incorrectly. But he is unable to give the customer the next recalled part.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: Advised the customer that there is no way we can expedite the part to the dealership. Customer wants the information documented in case something happens before then. Customer states the vehicle still has an issue the dealership has not been able to diagnose. The vehicle has a vibration while the vehicle is in motion.
Customer is contacting in because he wanted to know what Chrysler was going to do about the recall. Customer contacted in to seek if he goes to the DLR and had the wrong tie rod put on and then have it switched for the right one when the time come to have that recall done, would Chrysler approve of that. Customer thinks his vehicle should be the top priority as the bolt is hitting off of his vehicle. Customer believes that Chrysler does not care about what happens to his vehicle.

Agent advised the customer that Chrysler will not approve the DLR to switch out his tie rod with the wrong one and then switch it again with the right on. Agent advised the customer that the DLR would likely not do the switch out as for if the part was defective and anything happens the DLR could loose their license. Agent advised the customer that we can not expedite the part for him as he is no more important then the rest and would have to wait for the part just like everyone else. Agent advised the customer it is not that Chrysler and the DLR don t care, it s that there are other customers that need the tie rod recall as well and it goes in the order of how the customers contacted in. Agent advised the customer that we could document his concerns.
Customer was dissatisfied as to how we were not going to put him as a priority above other customers.
Customer states that he would like to update Chrysler that the bolt is hitting the frame again. Customer states he will be updating his file regularly so that everything is documented. Agent spoke with Natalie at Baxter and advised the wait list is near 80,. Agent spoke to Lexie at Performance in La Vista and advised the list is 100. Agent spoke with Jethro at Woodhouse and was advised that he had the parts for the N49. Agent transferred customer to Jethro to set an appointment.
Customer called because he has just got the N49 recall completed. Customer stated that the dealership looked into the clunking concern of the front end as well. Customer stated that the dealer found that the previous recall for the tie rod ends part was put on backwards. Customer stated that the axle is going to need to be replaced.
Agent called Woodhouse Chrysler and spoke to SA Jethro. Jethro stated that the tie rod was put on upside down at a dealership in TX that performed the recall. Jethro stated that the tie rod has caused damage to the front axle and it will need to be replaced. Jethro stated that the customer still has the powertrain warranty but he is not sure if that will cover the repair because another dealership istalled the recall part incorrectly. Agent relayed information to the customer. Agent advised customer that his case will be escalated for further assistance.
Customer advised a call back is required and will take place within one business day by COB their time

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer is contacting Chrysler because his pitman arm broke and the customer believes that it is related for the recall.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: cost assistance.
Agent contacted dealership 67311 and spoke with SA Matt. Matt confirmed that the customers Inner tie rod at the pitman arm broke. Dealership states that it is not related to the N49 recall.
Dealership also mentions that the customer has a lift kit on the vehicle.
Agent contacted SM John to see if there was any possibility of D-12-27.
SM John stated that the lift kit contributed to the issue the customer is experiencing and there for he does not qualify for D-12-27.
Agent informed the customer of the above information. Customer stated that the lift kit was put on after the pitman arm broke. Customer states that he had spoken with Mr. Fletcher at the dealership prior to putting the lift kit on and that he sent him pictures showing that the pitman arm was broken prior to putting the lift kit on. Customer states that Mr. Fletcher approved that the customer can put the lift kit on.

Recall - N62: LEFT OUTER TIE ROD ASSEMBLY - Information Request	customer called seeking recall information

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler:
Customer called stating he contacted the dealership about a recall on the tie rod, they told him it was NOT a recall and a week later it broke.
Customer stated that after the right tie rod broke the dealership called and wanted him to come back because the Left outer tie rod is on recall.
Customer stated that after the tie rod broke the oil pan, GPS radio, and the turbo also broke.
Customer stated that he wants the tie rod to be payed for since they replaced almost everything afterwards.
Customer stated that he was going to tell everyone he knows how he feels about dodge.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting:
Agent advised customer that the Right outer tie rod was not part of a recall and had not been a recall in the past either.
Agent advised customer that the reason why the left tie rod is on recall and the right one wasnt is because the right tie rod wasnt believed to have a faulty ball stud on the Mopar service parts steering linkage as per ANSWER ID 24057 and it was the original part. The left one however was found to be faulty and it was a replacement mopar part being as to why it was recalled.
Agent advised customer that we cant diagnose the veichle over the phone so any other problems that he had on the veichle (ie; turbo, oil pan, GPS radio) would have to be diagnosed by the dealership and due to it not being recall related it would be repairs done at the customers expense.

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer is contacting chrysler because he received a recall notice december 2013 for a recall on his left tie rode, he made contact with chrysler and was told the parts were unavailable. A few months later he was made aware that parts were starting to come in but the dealership could only order one a week. A few days ago the customer was driving down the highway at 70 miles/h and something snapped on his vehicle, he pulled over and backed up and that s when the tie rod broke. The customer then had the vehicle towed to his dealership paid $100 then was brought to the hospital for heart/stress related problems. When the customer got out of the hospital he s vehicle was fixed.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: Customer would like to know why he waited so long for this recall to have parts available then has problem/goes to hospital and all of a sudden they have a part for him. Agent advised customer that more parts are starting to come in and it was probably more of a coincidence then anything else. Agent got customer calmed down and customer is now satisfied.

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer is calling because his tie rod broke while he was driving. The customer brought the vehicle to an IRF who informed him that this was a part of a recall. Customer went to the DLR to check before he towed his vehicle there. The DLR told him the recall was 'incomplete'. Customer wants to know if the cost of the repair is covered under the recall. Agent advised the customer that this recall only applies to vehicles that have had a Mopar service steering linkage part installed at a prior service appointment, and it is not on the original parts in the vehicle.
Customer states that he has never done anything to the steering linkage. Agent advised that the recall would not be on his vehicle. Customer states he is the second owner and does not know how to find out if anything was done. Agent offered to try to find the selling DLR and customer declined and stated that if the cost of the repair won t be covered he might as well just get the repair done at the IRF. Agent advised that that decision is up to the customer. Agent apologized about the inconvenience.

I would like to inform you of the trouble I am currently having. I have been on a waiting list for the left tie rod recall. Last night it broke on my truck. I am currently out of a vehicle and have a 2011 Ram sitting in my driveway that I can t drive. I am getting the run around on trying to get it fixed. I don t understand why I will not be provided with a replacement vehicle while mine is currently out of comisssion due to a defect. I have been on the phone for over 2 hours and talked to I don t even know how many people by now and the truck is still sitting in the driveway. I am extremely disapointed in the service I have been recieiving. I really need this fixed asap as I do not have a vehicle to drive and it sounds like I will not be getting a replacement.

Recall - N49: LEFT TIE ROD - Information Request	Customer's left tie rod broke on the way to the dealership to be repaired

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler:
Customer states that their left tie rod broke on the way to the DLR to get the N49 recall repaired.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting:
Customer is seeking Roadside Services.
Customer states that they have an appointment with DLR 45099 to get the N49 repaired.
Customer says that the left tie rod affected by the recall broke on the way to DLR 45099.
Customer is looking to get the vehicle towed to DLR 45099.
Agent advised that we are not sure if the tow will be covered as we are unable to bring up their warranty information but that we can transfer them to Roadside Services for further assistance.
Agent contacted Roadside Services and spoke to Roadside agent Katherine.
Agent informed Roadside agent that we are not able to bring up their warranty information so we are not sure if the tow will be covered but offered to transfer the customer over to them so that they can better answer the customer s questions.
Agent transferred customer to Roadside agent.
Agent supplied the customer with the information from Answer Connect document #17943 if they were unable to receive free towing so that they may be able to apply for reimbursement. Agent attempted to aid the customer in obtaining free road side assistance under recall (agent was not yet certain as to whether recall related issues would qualify for free towing), and contacted the Chrysler Group LLC Roadside Assistance number, where the agent spoke to agent Jessica on the other end. Agent inquired as to why the customer may have been denied free towing, Jessica informed the agent that they do not cover towing under recall, and that the customer did not have a current roadside assistance plan and is outside of warranty. Agent relayed this information to the customer, who stated that they would work out a solution themselves, but thanked the agent for their effort. Agent relayed this information to Jessica.

Customer currently has the truck at the DLR being repaired. Customer was wondering what Chrysler could do for the consequential damage that occurred because of the tie rod breaking. Agent informed customer that as long as the DLR states that the repairs he has completed are because of consequential damage of the tie rod breaking, Chrysler would be able to reimburse. tow truck would not have even touched the vehicle for that amount. Agent apologizes and states that the maximum allowed for towing is $100. Customer states that he wants to speak with a supervisor. Agent explains that supervisor is unavailable but he will be contacted within 3 business days. Customer was not happy, constantly made rude comments to insult agent. Agent advised (repeating the previous agent) that the maximum amount we would cover for towing would be 100$. Agent also advised since customer didn t have a service contract that this was in good faith. Customer was upset with the decision. Agent offered customer to speak with previous case manager. Customer declined. Customer repeated his issue and asked if there was another department this case would be handled. Agent advised there wasn t. Customer stated that he would call back to see if this would go any further. Customer disconnected.
Customer called demanding to speak to a different case manager. Agent transferred customer to case manager line for next available case manager as per answer ID 19956.

Product - Suspension - Tie Rods / Drag Link - Broken - Unknown	Right Tie Rod Broke

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler:
Customers daughter is calling in as her Dad has stage 4 cancer and he was in his truck going to the cafe where he eats everyday.
He made a right and the tie rod broke.
He was lucky there was no traffic and he was not hurt.
They had the truck towed to their DLR and she was charged $200 for something that Chrysler is going to pay for.
Agent called the DLR and spoke with Garrett who says that they do not see this customer on a regular bases last time was in 2013 for an oil change.
Agent asked if there was after market parts on this truck and he said yes.
But with this truck not going to them for service could mean that he goes to an IRF and that is where the after market prices come in.
Garrett also said that she thinks that this is the recall and it is not.
They inspect his left tie rod and if passed the inspection nothing needs to be done right now.
Agent went back to the customer daughter [redacted]
She is demanding that we pay her the $200 or she will have her lawyer and her insurance company contact us.
She wanted a supervisor but as agent has told her that there is nothing that we can do.
This vehicle could not of been sold with after market parts on it as your dad is the original owner and if there was issues with it we would be able to see notes on it at least.
Agent has told her that she will need to supply some proof of theses after market parts and when they were installed.
Agent supplied her with a fax number 1-877-768-5676.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting:
Expecting that we pay for the repairs to her Fathers truck.

Recall - N49: LEFT TIE ROD - Other	Seeking towing reimbursement.

 EMAIL BRIEF DESCRIPTION CONTENT *****
How do I obtain reimbursement for towing expenses?
 END EMAIL BRIEF DESCRIPTION CONTENT *****
On 10/1/14 we incurred towing expenses when our 2010 Dodge Ram2500 had a left tie rod break while driving. We have been waiting over 6 months for our dealership to have the part available. The vehicle was not drivable and had to be towed at our expense. Not only is this recall N49 a very dangerous situation, but doubly frustrating when customers must wait unreasonable amounts of time for availability. Luckily we were no injured when this part failed while driving, but the result could have very easily been tragically different.

Reassigned to SJ372 for survey bypass, duplicate CAIR#[redacted] Customer contacted by phone.
While I appreciate the response to my previous email, my real question is How do I obtain reimbursement for the towing expense incurred by my when the recalled tie rod failed before a part was made available to me? It is unfair and unreasonable to expect an owner to absorb this expense when we had repeatedly tried to get the part fixed and taken care of. There is no way the truck was drivable after it broke while on the road and the only way to get it to the Dodge dealership was by towing.

Any help with getting this expense reimbursed is greatly appreciated.
Thanks

Recall - N62: LEFT OUTER TIE ROD ASSEMBLY - Reimbursement	Seeking recall reimbursement

Recall information
 END EMAIL BRIEF DESCRIPTION CONTENT *****
I purchased this vehicle used from a small dealership on 10/4/2014. On 10/5/2014 while in a Walmart parking lot, I was approaching a stop sign and heard a load pop, and my steering wheel pulled very sharply to the right. Come to find out, the left tie rod sheered cleanly off. I have found through my own research that there is an open recall for this malfunction for my year model of truck. The guys at les schwab say it is pretty common. I could not get the truck to a Dodge dealership, as I didn t even own it 24 hrs, and I live too far away from one. My question is, what is the protocol for filling a claim for damage due to a faulty part? It cause some front end suspension damage, totaling about $897 in damage. I m looking for more information on how I can file a claim, or get some assistance, as it was the faulty part that failed. Thank you in advance, Jeremy

Recall - N49: LEFT TIE ROD - Reoccurance or Related Problem	Possible recall concern

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler:
The customer contacted Chrysler customer assistance seeking recall information. Customer states their tie rod has failed.
Agent advised the customer it cannot be promised that the repair will be covered but the symptoms match. Agent advised customer if they do not want their insurance to tow the vehicle, we can arrange a tow. Customer understood and will be calling in the morning.
Customer called to follow up on the case. Customer stated they were traveling and the left tie rod broke. Customer stated they were advised by by TS936 that they could have the vehicle towed to the dealer. Agent advised this was correct but due to being out of basic warranty she could incur the charge for the tow. Customer did state back in march she had the vehicle inspected by her local Chrysler dealer and was advised they were good and didn t require the recall to be completed. Agent advised there is a possibility she will be responsible for the charges out of pocket but that would have to be determined by the dealer. Customer stated she will have her insurance tow the vehicle.

Product - Suspension - Tie Rods / Drag Link - Broken - Unknown	Tie rod assembly needs replaced.

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer calling in because he has the N62 recall on his vehicle. He states that he has to pay because the DLR said it does not qualify.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: Customer seeking cost assistance on repairs and wants to know why this would not be under the warranty.
Called dealership 63644Ù to confirm details of diagnosis.
Spoke with SM Steve
What is the diagnosis? new tie rod assembly needs replaced.
Is the concern a result of misuse/abuse/lack of maintenance? no
What is the general condition of the vehicle? good
Have there been any previous related repairs? no
Have there been previous out-of-pocket repairs?
What is the estimated cost of the repair? 700$ (80$ labor)
Do you feel this customer should receive assistance? yes
Would you be willing to provide assistance? co-pay, 35$ discount.
Agent advised customer of that since he does not have the newer tie rod assembly on his vehicle it can not be recalled for the parts. Agent explained that he has the older assembly and since it has to be repaired to the newer tie rod assembly that is why it costs so much. Agent advised customer that at this time it would be a customer pocket pay unless the DLR is willing to give discount or co-pay. Customer understood.

There is no email adress showing for the customer; writer will seek to obtain one.
Customer called writer. Writer was not available. Customer stated, in his message that his vehicle has now been down 11 days. He says this is the fifth Dodge he has owned and that he USES his vehicle for his livelihood and this is seriously impacting his business. (His business entails handling water damage among other things.) Customer is very unhappy about the delay in the engineering case and lack of information provided to him. As well, although a loaner was provided, it is, customer says in his message, a Subaru Legacy, which will not suffice to carry his business equipment: he needs to rent a truck. Customer requested a call back as soon as possible.
CONTACT UPDATE - Customer was contacted today at 11:14AM,MSTÙ.
Customer was provided with agent s extension: 40683Ù.
Customer is calling back because the vehicle has been at the dealer for 10 days and they have not been able to fix the issue. Customer is '4th owner' and does not qualify for goodwill. Agent advised the customer to keep working with the dealer and STAR. CUstomer got angry and disconnected Writer called customer. Customer stated that he actually has a carpet cleaning business. Customer states that the dealership did NOT offer a loaner that would work for him- they only offered, he says, a car.
Customer states that the Dealership is not helping him because it was not his selling dealership, although he has bought other vehicles from them.
Customer related to writer that he went to the Dealership to ask to trade his truck in, since it cannot be diagnosed, but that the Sales Manager told him they wouldn t touch the truck and didn t want to pass it on to another customer as a problem. Customer explained that this now leaves him with a $40,000 truck in the shop which cannot be fixed, no way to trade it in for another one, and at a grave deficit financially as he needs the truck (or any truck) in order to keep running his business.
TIE ROD ISSUE: This truck is showing an incomplete recall for N49, Left Tie Rod. Customer told writer that his left tie rod broke about two months ago, and that when it snapped, the broken end wedged in between the rotor and left front tire, where it then broke the inside of the rim, and blew the tire out. Customer states that he contacted the Dealership about the tie rod repair, but that the Dealership told him they would not do the work because this was not under warranty (however! It should have fallen under N49, Incomplete Recall for Left Tie Rod.) Customer also states that he never received a notification about this Recall, which is possible, as we did not have the correct mailing address on file for him.
The customer provided his correct mailing address to writer: [redacted] Blackhawk SD [redacted].This information has now been corrected in web coin.
Customer told writer that he ended up doing the repair on his tie rod himself and is out $500 out of pocket for those parts. ENGINE: Customer states that his engine had been cutting out, he had taken it to the Dealership, but the repairs were not complete. Customer says the dealership originally diagnosed the point of failure as his remote start system, but that was incorrect. Now the vehicle has been at the Dealership for 11 days. The Dealership, customer states, has replaced the ECM unit per (STAR) direction, but this was not sufficient and now the vehicle repairs are waiting, customer says, on engineering assistance. Customer is furious with Chrysler and with the Engineering team who he alleges won t get back to the Dealership. Writer commiserated with customer and attempted to explain that the engineering team assistance can be a lengthy process, but customer is very upset. CUSTOMER EXPECTATION: Somebody needs to start treating me like a valued customer. Customer adds that he is now completely soured on Dodge and states that the Sales Manager told him point blank that if a vehicle was not sold by the Dealership, work on it is not important to the Dealership. Customer did emphasize several times however that he is HAPPY with Service Manager Clayton and the Service Department and says Service deserves a lot of credit. Writer advised customer that I will research and do my best to have some solid answers for him within a day or two.

Writer called Dealership and spoke with Service Manager Clayton. Clayton advised writer that he talked to the Sales Manager today, after having a call very early this morning from the customer. Clayton advised writer that the Sales Manager told HIM he would love to take it in on trade but that without knowing if this is going to be a warranty or non-warrantied problem, the fix, or the total costs/ customer pay or? , the Sales Manger doesn t know how much to figure in for repairs. SM Clayton also told writer that he was unaware of the tie rod history until this morning, when the customer explained it to him, so he didn t have a ready answer for the customer. Clayton DID offer this possible goodwill solution, stating that MAYBE we could reimburse the customer for his parts costs incurred in performing his own tie rod/ tire repair, if the customer can come up with the date that he purchased the parts and purchased them from the Dealership. (This is generous.)Clayton explained that if he could find a relevant parts receipt by date, perhaps he can help the customer out there. REGARDING CURRENT REPAIRS: Clayton advised customer that STAR did get back to the technician today and they want him to check some other wires, hopefully that will get done this afternoon (Tuesday, October 21, 2014.) Clayton reemphasized that he won be able to discern if this repair will be covered under warranty or not until the actual point of failure is determined. Clayton says in terms of personality and loyalty, he is fine with the customer, and that he does fully appreciate how urgent a matter it is to the customer to have his truck back as soon as possible. Clayton provided updated mileage: 40701. Writer advised Clayton that I will share this information with the customer and thanked him for his time and insight.

Writer called customer and shared with him the gist of the conversation with Clayton, and the update on his STAR case. Writer attempted to impart to customer that nothing is necessarily off the table, including a trade-in, per SM Clayton, all is dependent upon the completed diagnosis. Writer asked customer to gather and provide the receipts for the parts that he purchased in association with his tie=rod repair and advised him to provide them to Clayton as well, which customer stated that he will do. Writer advised customer I will keep him updated. Customer was somewhat mollified.

* Customer stated he does not want to mess with emails,or have time for computers, so writer did not request one. Instead, during the course of this conversation, writer provided to customer his CAIR number, my name and spelling, and my contact information and office hours.

Writer called Dealership and asked Service Manager Clayton if he has any updates to provide me, after first examining latest notations in STAR case. Clayton advised writer that he ordered a TIPUM module today, as that is his best direction in terms of resolving the engine issue. Clayton said it should arrive tomorrow, Friday, October 24, at the earliest, but he doesn t anticipate needing assistance with expediting. Writer asked Clayton if customer has been in touch with him regarding receipts for tie rod work; Clayton told writer the customer is going through his papers, trying to come up with the dates. Writer thanked SM Clayton and will touch base later.

Writer called customer and advised him of the update from Service Manager

Clayton. Customer is much more at ease now as he stated he and Clayton are communicating well and Clayton has told him he will make things right in regard to the (past) costs of the (past) recall costs. Writer advised customer that the (STAR) engineering team is communicating a lot with the Dealership now and is concerned about resolving the case, and that Clayton has ordered a TIPM, which he expects may arrive by tomorrow (Friday, October 24, 2014.) Customer asked if these repairs are all under warranty and stated he had asked Clayton to call him if the repairs were not covered under his powertrain warranty, and Clayton didn t call, so customer states he assumes these repairs are covered. Writer will ascertain this for customer during next call to dealership. Customer thanked writer and stated he did buy the used Chevy truck so he would have an immediate truck to use, and that things are looking better now. Writer advised customer that I will stay in contact with him in regard to the process of the repairs. Customer thanked writer and stated he did buy the used Chevy truck so he would have an immediate truck to use for work, and that things are looking better now.
Writer called Dealership. Writer spoke with Service Manager Clayton. SM Clayton advised writer that 'i believe we have it(the vehiclle) fixed; I drove it friday and saturday and it s running today and so far it has not stalled.' Point of failure: the Dealership 'had to' replace the TIPUM . Writer inquired regarding costs of repair. SM Clayton replied, 'it will be his (the customer s) responsibility to pay for the Tipum Module repair.' Writer asked SM if he had advised the customr that he would be liable for costs prior to the repair. SM Clayton stated he had not ' because the customr was out of town and we couldn t reach him' and stated that the customer had told them to go ahead and get the work done. (However, based upon prior conversation with customer, customer had been under the illusion that repairs would be covered by warranty.) SM Clayton stated he was not willing to provide goodwill financial assistance to the customer, even though he falls inside goodwill parameters, because the customer is a second owner of the vehicle. SM Clayton also advised writer that the TIPUM repair does not fall either under the customer s powertrain nor diesel engine warranty, though the ECM did. SM Clayton agreed to fax the invoice to writer (who provided fax number and instructions) and provided a preliminary verbal statement of outstanding costs of repair: $1241.26, the cost of the TIPUM alone, Clayton said, coming to 'around $894.' SM Clayton added that the customer must pay in full prior to picking up his truck.
Was the customer in a rental? If yes, how many days? No, customer was not in a rental.
Did the customer have a co-pay? Yes. If yes, how much? TIPUM MODULE: $1241.26 : TIPUM about $894.00, the remainder is labor , according to preliminary information from Service Manager. Invoice to follow.
What is the RO #? N/A
Does the SM have the CAIR #? If no, provide it. N/A Review and Confirm the DM Notes with the SM while on the phone.
Does the SM have everything needed from Customer Care to process the claim?
Service Manager will not be processing the claim; customer is to be responsible for full cost of repairs and parts.
Writer called customer and advised him of the information provided to writer by Service Manager Clayton. (Lines 181-201). Customer stated he had just got off the phone with Dodge Town so he was already aware of this bad news. Customer is very upset. It is clear to writer that the customer did not actually authorize the repairs at this degree of expense. Further, customer had made it clear (see narrative) to both writer and to SM Clayton that no repair was to be done until he was called and advised of the total cost and whether or not this would be under warranty. (Example, lines 170-172). Nor was writer advised, on behalf of customer, whether or not these repairs would be covered under warranty, so customer was most likely not adequately advised. (Lines 131-133.) Customer also told writer that Clayton has now changed his mind and will no longer assist customer with obtaining compensation for the tie rod repairs out of pocket but rather told him this was something he would have to work out with Chrysler on his own. Customer states that he is through with Dodge and will be retaining legal representation against both Dodge Town and Chrysler.
Writer apologized to customer for this gross misunderstanding and advised customer that I will escalate this combined concern (to include the tie rod issue) for corporate consideration to the best degree that I can. Customer asked writer if he could have an answer today so that he could go and pick up his truck, writer advised customer that regrettably I don t anticipate being able to supply an answer by today but that I will do my best to assist him and to research as to whether there is something we can do by way of compensation or reimbursement.

Writer is still awaiting supervisory direction in regard to this case. -
Writer called customer. Customer was not available. Writer left voicemail: Writer expressed to customer that I am continuing to research what I may be able to do to assist him, our valued customer, but that this review is taking some time. Writer thanked customer for his patience and asked him to contact me if he needs to at any time, writer also requested an update from customer at his convenience. Writer still requires work orders/ invoices from customer or dealership pertaining to the TIPUM repair and costs.
Writer called Dealership and asked to speak with Service Manager Clayton Basinger or to be attached to his voicemail if he is out. Writer was transferred to Service Manager Clayton s voice mail. Writer left voicemail thanking SM Clayton for the faxed information regarding the ECM, but noted that I am still looking for work order and invoice pertaining to the TIPUM repair and the customer s outstanding balance for most recent repairs. Writer thanked SM Clayton for his assistance and asked him to please fax that additional information, and provided fax number and instructions to SM.
Writer contacted the customer to advise that we are still looking into his requests and we will get back with him on 11-4-14, the customer stated that the aftermarket remote start was dismantled and did not hook it back up once it was determined that this was not the cause of the issue.
iWriter called customer. Customer first noted: He needs to buy three new commercial vans in the New Year. He was GOING to purchase Dodge products. But now customer says he will never buy another Dodge. Customer Mr. [redacted] advised writer that 1) he picked up his truck, from the Dealership, but that the repair did not work. He states that the installation of the TIPUM did not solve the problem. 2) Customer reiterated that he did NOT authorize the repair but had made it explicitly clear to Service Manager Clayton that NO additional repairs were to be done until he was quoted a price and gave his authorization for repairs which did not happen (this is clearly delineated in the narrative notes.) 3)Customer explained to writer that as part of the diagnosis , the Dealership disconnected his remote start, because , he says, they told him it MIGHT be the cause of the problem. After the TIPUM was installed without customer s permission, the Dealership did not reattach the remote start, although customer alleges that he has requested this more than once. 4) Customer had to pay for the TIPUM installation and 2.5 hours of labor at around $1000 out of pocket. Writer asked customer to send in his documentation, this remains undocumented. 5) IMPORTANT: Customer alleges that when he went to Dodge Town with his broken tie rod they did NOT advise him of the open recall for this tie rod, did not tell him the repairs would be at Chrysler expense, and!: SOLD HIM OLD JUNK TIE ROD PARTS that had been removed from other vehicles and told him to do the repair himself. Customer told writer that he has researched the parts numbers for these parts that were sold to him and confirmed that these are the parts which Chrysler has identified as faulty and dangerous tie rod parts. (In other words, customer is saying that these were removed in the process of recall work, kept in a warehouse- and then sold to him as working parts. Customer claims that Dodge Town techs told him there ARE no parts available to complete these tie rod recalls and that 300 customers in Rapid City alone are awaiting this recall repair.) 8) Customer states he has contacted Scott Peterson motors who told him that the TIPUM should have cost between $3-800 with only one hour labor needed to install it. Customer says he is going to go to another Chrysler Dealership, have the unresolved vehicle problems repaired properly, and then sue Dodge Town. Customer states that Dodge Town staff told him they weren t interested in helping because he didn t buy the vehicle from them. Customer concluded by saying that now his vehicle sits in the driveway because he won t drive it: I don t feel the vehicle is safe, I don t trust it, customer states. Customer also said he feels that Dodge Town is criminal. Writer encouraged customer to make an appointment at Scott Peterson as soon as possible and to ensure that they document all of the repairs, incomplete repairs, and parts which he has noted.

Writer called Service Manager Clayton. Writer sought to clarify customer concerns and weigh the customer s story against the statements from Service Manager Clayton. SM Clayton immediately said to writer that when the customer dropped his truck off for repairs he just said he needed a fix, go for it so we went ahead and put the TIPUM in. Writer informed SM Clayton that the customer s explicit instructions not to proceed with these expensive repairs without first consulting him are on record, in the narrative. SM Clayton did not respond to this. Writer asked SM Clayton to clarify where on the document which he sent the TIPUM service order and costs is notated. SM Clayton explained to writer that this is item number three on the sheet. ---- Regarding the customer s complaint about his disconnected remote start, SM Clayton alleges that this was an aftermarket part and that the customer was supposed to provide contact information for the aftermarket company to Dealership, and, as well, that the customer isn t concerned about it and said not to worry about hooking it up. Clayton said the aftermarket company was supposed to get us some information about how to bypass this part. SM Clayton then went on to say I can reattach it, but I need some information, because I want to do it perfectly. Writer briefly revisited the customer s complaint about his broken tie rod (associated with a recall!) not being repaired at the dealership. (Again, customer had to do the work himself because the Dealership stated the repair was not under warranty , not informing him of the recall, and then , only sold him some parts -- which customer now alleges were used and defective parts.) SM Clayton stated to writer that the customer did the work himself so it will be up to the customer to obtain reimbursement from Chrysler. SM Clayton told writer he doesn t know where to begin in terms of finding the parts invoices which might pertain to that sale because he doesn t know what date to reference. Writer duly notes this conversation and will touch base with customer next.
Writer called customer. Customer was not available . Writer left a voicemail advising customer that I had a pertinent conversation with Service Manager Clayton earlier today and requesting that he return my call, so that we can discuss the latest information.
Writer called customer. Customer told writer that Dodge Town has refunded his money for the TIPUM module! Customer reports that Dodge Town told him 'Chrysler decided to warranty that work.' Customer says he believes it is because he told Dodge Town he was going to sue them and possibly because of writer forwarding this case to a higher level of corporate attention.
- Customer told writer too that his vehicle is however back in the shop at Dodge Town because they inadvertently unhooked all of his heater components (and the temperature is now 8 (eight) degrees in Blackhawk.)Customer told writer that Dodge Town is not charging him for this corrective repair because they unhooked everything during previous diagnoses. Customer added that the dealership is also hooking his remote start back up per his insistence. Writer asked customer if I may check back with him at the end of the week to wrap things up and customer said that was fine. * Note: the issue of customer being refused tie rod recall repair and provided with incorrect parts (he alleges) is however not yet resolved.
Writer called Dealership. Receptionist stated that Service Manager is with a customer and that all the Service Advisors are at lunch. Writer asked to be put through to SM Clayton s voice mail. SM Left a voice mail message for Clayton, thanking him for working with the customer regarding the TIPUM cost and asking him to please return my call so that I can verify the information I received from the customer. * Writer also wants to revisit the tie rod recall question with SM Clayton in that I would like to ensure this recall work was properly performed at an authorized dealership rather than having been performed by the customer himself.
Service Manager Clayton called writer. SM Clayton advised writer that he talked to his DM about this case and was advised not to charge the customer, so the Dealership refunded the customer s check for TIPUM repairs to him. Writer thanked SM Clayton for this gracious generosity and told him the customer sounds much more at peace and satisfied about all issues now. SM Clayton told writer that the customer s vehicle is NOT at Dodge Town (so apparently the heater work/ remote start work is being performed at another non- Chrysler dealership. Writer will clarify with customer.) SM Clayton told writer that writer can now wrap this case up, it is complete. Regarding the tie rod: SM Clayton stated that the customer is supposed to get writer the information on the tie rod work from the company that performed it, and that he has said he will be doing so. Writer will keep case open a bit longer while awaiting those documents from customer regarding tie rod reimbursement or perhaps create another case. From Dodge Town s perspective, however, the case can now be closed.

Was the customer in a rental? No. If yes, how many days? N/A
Did the customer have a co-pay? In the end, no; the cost of repairs was refunded. W
What is the RO #? [redacted]
Does the SM have the CAIR #? If no, provide it. SM Clayton states he doesn t need it now, case is closed.
Review and Confirm the DM Notes with the SM while on the phone. N/A
Does the SM have everything needed from Customer Care to process the claim? Yes, see narrative above, it s all taken care of.
Writer contacted customer. Customer stated that he paid for the ball joints to be replaced and that he has sent in necessary documents. Writer advised that no documentation has been attached regarding any tie rod repairs. Customer expressed extreme dissatisfaction and stated that he will gather documents. Customer requested writer contact him the morning of 11/18.
Customer Document Reviewed.
Writer contacted customer and provided fax information. Customer stated the he will gather his paperwork and provide them to writer as soon as possible. Writer will wait for documentation.
Writer contacted customer. Customer advised that he has not yet had time to send in documentation. Writer advised that case would be closed at this time and could be reopened when customer is ready to send documentation. Customer agreed. Writer will close case.

Customer called stating he bought a vehicle with a recall without being informed of it. Customer stated wanted it fixed, but was advised by a mechanic that customer had an after market lift on the vehicle. Customer fixed the left outer tie rod on his own as he was not sure and wanted his steering to be as it should. Agent advised customer because the recall was on the original part, and not the replacement part, we could not provide assistance. Customer asked if that meant his vehicle was safe to drive now, and under no recall. Agent advised that was correct. Customer thanked agent and disconnected the call.
Agent provided customer with final answer.
Reassigned case to AR1665 for final step.

Product - Suspension - Tie Rods / Drag Link - Broken - Unknown	Customer states tie rod broke

Briefly summarize why the customer is contacting Chrysler: Customer states that the tie rod on his vehicle has snapped and he is currently broken down. Customer states that the recall is on his VIN however he would like to know if he has towing coverage for this concern.
Customer states that Sollomon DLR was not willing to do the recall work on his vehicle due to that fact that he did not purchase the vehicle there.
Briefly summarize what the customer is expecting: Customer seeking towing coverage information.
Agent advised that this vehicle does not have towing at this time.
Customer states that he should not have to pay for towing as he purchased this vehicle with the recall open on it.
Agent advised that the only way coverage for towing could be issued would be if the selling DLR is willing to cover it for them as the recall being open on the VIN upon purchase would be a sales dispute.
Agent searched system for Sollomon DLR and was unable to pull up a DLR code for this dealership.
Next agent advised that it appears that Sollomon is not a CJDR DLR which would be the reason to why Sollomon would not be willing to cover recalls at this time.
