A close-up photograph of a car seat's buckle mechanism. A hand is holding a white rectangular label with the text "Right Front" printed in bold black letters. The label is positioned to the left of the buckle. The buckle itself is red with a black plastic frame and is attached to a dark grey fabric seat. The seat has a textured, woven appearance. The background is dark, likely the interior of a car.
