Ms. Glass,

Upon review of your query EQ15-003 in response to safety recalls 14V-313 and 14V-314, Tiffin Motorhomes does not believe there to be a safety issue in any of our motorhomes caused by coolant pulsation in heater hoses. We have not been informed of heater hose failure that could be attributed to this cause. Also, in the event of a heater hose failure, our hoses and connections are installed outside of the passenger compartment of the vehicle. Any failure of a heater hose would pose no risk of injury to an occupant of the vehicle, nor would it render the vehicle immobile without proper driver warning.

Sincerely,

Brad Warner
