Dear Mr. Manley,

I leased a 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee last year and am quite disappointed with my experience with your company. I would like to know what rights I have as a consumer as the product is falsely advertised and I've been told that a defect has no near term fix.

The primary reason for my selection of this vehicle were its safety features. I have a new driver in the house (my son turned 17) and I have a family member who is permanently handicapped due to traffic accident....in particular I was extremely excited that the jeep came with a Front Collision Warning system and bought into the fact that this could actually reduce the risk of a severe accident. I was so intrigued that I paid extra in my lease for the option.

Within the first year of the lease (less than 8K miles) the system stopped working. I brought it into the service department and was told that I needed an appointment as only 1 technician in the shop had the expertise to work on the FCW system. I scheduled the earliest appointment available for three weeks later. I dropped the car 3 weeks later and after 5 whole days in the shop I was told that the defect was under warranty but they did not have any parts to replace it in inventory so they would have to order it from Detroit. After 5 days I was sent home (now a second time) with no fix to the FCW system. I was told I would be notified when part arrived.

2 -3 weeks go by and I had not heard from dealer. I decide to call at which time I was told it's still on order. They did think it was odd that it was taking so long so I pressed them to call Detroit and look into it. I received a call a few days later and was informed that the part has no scheduled arrival date as it's being "redesigned and remanufactured"

So here I sit with a car with no front Collision Warning system. A system I paid extra for and the main reason I selected this car over the competition.

Do I have rights under the LEMON laws of NY state? Do I have rights to a discount on my lease?

Respectfully disappointed,

[REDACTED]

After two weeks in shop to fix list of issues the car dropped out of D on the freeway into 3 scarring my wife half to death. This car has on multiple occasions taken control and completed unsafe actions, including stopping to operate in cruise (ACC recall), panic braking for right turning vehicles and the paddles being too close to controls on the wheel.

Demontrond doesn't return our calls, nor will they tell us the phone number of the next contact up the line to lodge a complaint. Truly deplorable system when the complaint tree doesn't allow you access past the entity being complained about.

Jeep has proven unreliable, unsafe and unresponsive.

We definitely expect the issues to continue. The dealer has failed to find the root cause of the issue, remedied the problems with "updates", did not replace components expected to be replaced, and failed to communicate on every level concerning our wellbeing and the issues.

The vehicle has not worked from day one and we are now heading off on vacation with a car that slips into gear on its own, been advised by the service manager to just shift it back into gear when it happens, and not to worry.

I guess will just drive it until it tears itself apart or kills someone because at this point I believe that is the only way to get it fixed.

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your patience.

We have spoken to the dealership and have advised the Chrysler Business Center of their practices. Again, we apologize. We would suggest having an appointment set and having the transmission issue diagnosed and resolved. I apologize for the less than favorable response, however we have documented everything thus far and it will be reviewed internally.

Document Recieved from Customer

Cair Number: [REDACTED]

Date Received: 2014-07-22 21:22:54.208772

Files Not Recieved: 0

Attached is the timeline of the problems associated with Cair Number [REDACTED]

My name is [REDACTED] and this is the story of my Jeep for the first 5,000 miles...

I leased my 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee Overland with the optional Advanced Technology Package on December 5th, 2013. For my first new car lease, not only did I put $4500 down, I traded in car at a $7000 value - applied to the principal of the car to make my payments more affordable. I leased the Overland with the Advanced Technology Pack (total of nearly a $50,000 value as you know) because I was coming from a car with hardly any safety features so I wanted to make sure I got the best technology.

I experienced problems beginning in February of 2014. This was two months after I signed the lease agreement. The odometer read just over 2,000 miles. The display beeped and flashed, warning of impending collisions when there were no obstacles in front of the Jeep. I thought it was a temporary glitch, but the error kept occurring. I had no tangible proof that the error was occurring until I snapped a picture of the odometer error message with my iPhone on March 4th, 2014. The error message that I got a picture of reads: ACC/FCW Unavailable Wipe Front Radar Sensor. I cleaned my Jeep, and the sensor - yet the problem persisted.

I'm a busy girl and I dreaded having to deal with taking my car in, so I did not contact Westgate Jeep service until the problem became intolerable. I contacted Westgate on Thursday, March 20th on my lunch break at about 1 or 2pm and spoke to service advisor Greg. I told him about the malfunction. He told me that I might just need to wipe dirt off the sensor. I assured him that it was not dirt and it was a malfunction. I told him that I could bring my Jeep in the next day since I had a paid holiday and would have someone to drive me home. He said that they could probably "squeeze me in" even though they would be really busy.

Friday, March 21st, I drove the Jeep to Westgate and my boyfriend drove his car behind me. I didn't end up getting there until about 1 or 2pm so I told them if they didn't have time to get to it today they could keep it through Saturday. Greg said it would be fine and that they would call me when it was ready.

The next morning, Saturday, March 22nd, I was concerned about my Jeep's status. So I called Westgate and spoke to service advisor Edward (Greg was not there) and he said he didn't even know my Jeep was on the lot. He said there was no way that they would get to it that Saturday. My boyfriend drove me back to Westgate to pick up the Jeep, as Westgate is closed on Sundays and I needed my Jeep to drive to work the following Monday. Of course, I was furious - I had not only wasted my time and gas, but I had wasted my boyfriend's time and gas (it takes over 30 minutes to get to Westgate from my home with zero traffic). When we arrived, I was very nice to Edward but I told him the way I was treated was unacceptable, that if they were extremely busy and flooded with work I should not have been promised that my Jeep could have been "squeezed in." I would rather have Greg been honest with me and schedule a time in the future when they could definitely take care of the problem.

Edward promised that his service manager would contact me that next Monday the 24th. Then it was 5pm on Monday and no one from Westgate had attempted to contact me. So I called back and spoke to who I think was Greg, and told him that the manager should have contacted me that day. Because he had not done so, I was very upset - I asked that the manager call me as soon as possible.

Service Manager Will Cooper finally contacted me two hours later at 7pm. I was very professional with him and explained to him why the way I was treated was absolutely unacceptable - the fact that I am paying for a $50,000 top of the line Jeep and that his service department just jerked me around, wasting my and my boyfriend's precious time and money. He agreed that it was very inconsiderate and apologized and said he would schedule a time for my Jeep to be picked up and a loaner car left with me. He called a day later and said he wouldn't be able to work on my Jeep on April 1st (keep in mind I spoke with him Monday the 24th) because they were so busy.

So a week later on Tuesday, April 1st they came and picked my Jeep up from me at work. They left me a 2013 base model Dodge Dart valued at $15,995.... no cruise control, cheap plastic and cloth, two airbags, covered with garish Westgate decals. I am not exaggerating - decals covered very vertical surface of the vehicle. The front bumper, the entire length of the car on both sides, and the rear bumper - free advertisement for Westgate and their terrible service. If Westgate thinks they were doing me a favor, they were dead wrong. Doing me a favor would have been leaving me with a vehicle that was closer in class to my Overland. To add to it, the tank was almost empty. Will told me that he would pay me back for filling up the tank - which he did later follow through on.

The next day Wednesday, April 2nd, Will told me the part was unfixable and that he would have to order a new part. Unfortunately, the part was on backorder and it was scheduled to ship that Friday. To avoid having to deal with trading cars back and forth, Will told me to keep the Dart since they would be expecting the part soon.

I followed up with Will that Friday, April 4th, and the part had been pushed back at the manufacturer for another week. So every week I would contact Will and he would tell me the part has been pushed several days or another week. This process repeated for several weeks.

Finally it was Friday, May 16th and Will said the part got pushed back again. My Jeep had been sitting at Westgate for over a month and a half (since April 1st) and I couldn't take it anymore. I hated driving the Dodge Dart and I missed my sleek and luxurious Overland. I told Will that this was getting ridiculous and that I couldn't wait any longer and that I was going to come get my Jeep back on Monday May 19th. I picked up the Jeep - they had filled up my tank at my request to replace what I wasted on March 21st and 22nd. Will told me he would call me when he heard something about the part.

Will never called me again. I didn't hear from him again until after my third call. I made that call on Tuesday, June 24th and left him another voicemail even though I already left him two other messages. He called me back an hour later, conveniently with good news - my part was in his shop. I was annoyed that it took me having to call him in the middle of the afternoon (while at my work) after I had already called him that week and the week before asking for updates before he told me he had the part. So he promised that my Jeep would be picked up on Tuesday, July 1st (three months after it was originally picked up). He said he would have something like a Jeep Patriot for me to drive around while it was being fixed.

Tuesday, July 1st rolled around and no one called, no one texted, no one picked up my Jeep. The one thing Westgate had the power to follow through on and they couldn't even do that. They had the part, they had the means but they "didn't have a loaner car" and were just "too busy and forgot to call." I was absolutely furious and at my wit's end - which is why I called Customer Care that night. When I called Westgate the next day, I spoke with the Store Manager Mike, and he was... nonplussed about the situation. His ambivalence shocked me. I had been wrecked with stress about my vehicle since the beginning of March, and he made no effort to even pretend like he cared about my situation. I hung up the phone and cried.

Will finally called me and apologized and said they just didn't have any loaner cars and that he should have called me to tell me and he didn't. "I'm sorry" was all I got. When it was all said and done, they picked my Jeep up Thursday, July 3rd, and did not give me a loaner car and I had to get a ride home from work from my brother. For the three days Westgate had my Jeep, my boyfriend drove me around. Westgate had my car finished, vacuumed, washed and delivered by end of day Saturday, July 5th. They had not planned to wash or vacuum the Jeep... thankfully I am close friends with a car buyer's agent who called them on my behalf and insisted they do so as an apologetic gesture. Westgate never undertook to do anything beyond picking up my Jeep and providing the loaner.

Conclusions:

Westgate Jeep wasted my time. They wasted 4-5 months of my lease payments. I have abided specifically by the terms of my lease contract. I treated my contacts at the dealership with patience. I have been as agreeable as is humanly possible for far longer than should be required of a paying customer. I have learned, resoundingly, that this was a mistake.

I chose to lease my Jeep because I did not want to worry about repairs. I leased my Jeep with the intention of trading for another Jeep at lease end, so that I would never have to deal with exactly the stress and lost time which resulted from this ordeal. Any additional measures taken by Westgate were done so at my friend's insistence.

Additionally, the loaner vehicle provided by Westgate was completely unacceptable. I continued to make lease payments on a $50,000 vehicle, while being given, and driving without complaint, a base model Dodge Dart (which retails for roughly $16,000). Will Cooper explained that, due to the length of time I drove the loaner vehicle, I was given an inferior vehicle. This suggests that he either (1) knew at the time I was given the loaner vehicle, that the repairs on my Jeep would take 3 months, or (2) he was being lazy and didn't care. He elaborated that, had my repairs been conducted more quickly (in a timely fashion), I would have been given a vehicle that would have been a suitable replacement for my $50,000 Jeep. He never offered to switch me out of the rolling billboard.

At the time I was given the Dodge Dart, Westgate had not yet diagnosed the cause of my Jeep's problems. Not knowing the cause or nature of the malfunction would have made it difficult to estimate time of repair, a necessary component of Will's claim. Accordingly, neither Will nor I had any idea at the time I was given a Dodge Dart that I would be in a "loaner" for weeks on end.

In hindsight, we see it took well over a month before I gave the Dart back to Westgate, but at the time, as my report shows above, I was lead to believe (by no fault of Will's I'm sure) that the part was coming, the part was coming, the part was coming.... And so on as outlined. I gave the Dart back before my Jeep was repaired, as at that point Westgate still had no idea as to when the part needed to repair my Jeep would arrive. I figured it was better to drive a broken car with comfortable seats than advertise for a dealership who had treated me so poorly, so consistently. For how easy it was to buy the vehicle, I had no idea how difficult it would be to get it serviced.

As my first car buying experience, this has been terrible. If I could get back the money I put down on the Jeep and the money for my trade, I would. I would go somewhere else for better business. Westgate Jeep has fallen far below even the modest standards of customer care. They just aren't people who I want to do business with. I would not recommend them to anyone.

So I propose that if Chrystler Corporation does not want to give me back the $12,500 I put down on the Jeep, and cancel the lease contract, then please return my lease payments for the months that I paid full price for a defective Jeep Grand Cherokee Overland. That's part of February, March, April, May and June and part of July. My lease payment is $365.05 - for four months that totals $1,460.20.

I feel that Chrysler Corporate is responsible for paying me back for the time I was not able to use all the functions of my Jeep, nor drive it at all because it was at the dealership while awaiting the part - keeping in mind that I chose the 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee Overland specifically for the added security features of the Advanced Technology Pack. Therefore, driving a Jeep without it was not only pointless but caused me undue and intolerable stress at the whim of Westgate Jeep. I would like to receive, in writing, what that my compensation will be as per my request above.

My cell phone number is [REDACTED] The Jeep is billed and garaged at [REDACTED], Hurdle Mills, NC, [REDACTED] but my current mailing address is at [REDACTED], Durham, NC, [REDACTED] so any mailings that may be produced need to be mailed to that address. Thank you all for your time and consideration.

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for contacting the Jeep Customer Assistance Center.

I'm sorry to hear of the concern you have experienced with your cruise control and the memory seat feature. We would like to review this concern further. Has the vehicle been diagnosed by Big O Dodge regarding the cruise control and memory seat concerns? If so, when was it diagnosed and who was your service advisor?

Thank you again for your email. Should you require additional assistance, or have any new information to provide, please reply to this email message or call 1-877-I-AM-JEEP (1-877-426-5337).

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for contacting the Jeep Customer Assistance Center.

We are sorry to hear of the concerns you have experienced. We are unable to advise of what may be causing the concern with the memory seat and the cruise control. We would be happy to further look into this situation. To do so, we will first require a diagnosis be performed by any authorized Jeep Dealership to review the situation and a determination on the repair procedure be put in place.

Our records indicate that the following recall campaign has not been performed by an authorized dealer:

P14 BRAKE BOOSTER

We recommend contacting Big O Dodge to arrange an appointment for proper diagnosis and repair. Once you have had an opportunity to undergo a diagnosis through your authorized Jeep Dealership, please call Jeep - 877-IAMJEEP (877-426-5337).

Thank you again for your email. Should you require additional assistance, or have any new information to provide, please reply to this email message or call 1-877-I-AM-JEEP (1-877-426-5337).

Lemon Law Demand

Comments:

The dealer has failed to fix a faulty navigation system FOUR TIMES. This is in addition to over 10 other trips to the dealer to fix a host of other defects.

I would like to have this vehicle replaced.

Below is the history of the problems, along with the specific instances (four) that the dealer has failed to fix the navigation system.

Here is the history of my purchase.

1. Purchased on Friday, August 2. Car didn't start on lot; was told that was because someone must have left the lights on.
2. Picked up on Monday, August 5 after paying for undercoat and inside/outside sealant. Navigation didn't work. Remote Start didn't work.
3. Returned vehicle same week and was told "problems fixed" after day long software reset.
4. Friday, August 9 (same week) car completely wouldn't start and stranded me on highway 93 in Montana. Car towed to dealer: they said "problems fixed" after changing grounding wire and updating software.
5. Picked up car on evening of Friday, August 9.

Remote start fixed, but navigation frozen.

6. Navigation not fixed till

September after two more visits to shop (a total of 4 trips to the shop within one month).

7. February 6, 2014. Check Engine repeatedly light goes on and then goes off after 3-5 days. Problem repeats but Don K says not to bring it in unless light on so they can get code. Bring to Don K on February 13, 2014.

8. February 13, 2014. Check engine light on. Don K reprograms instrument cluster.

9. March 4, 2014. Check engine light goes on; call for appointment on Thursday, March 6, 2014. Given appointment on Monday, March 10, 2014. Problem is apparently a bad reading on the vapor canister. Check engine light reset.

10. March 13, 2014. Check engine light goes on again. Make appointment for Friday, March 14, 2014.

March 14, 2014. Appointment at Don K. Replaced seal-vapor canister on evaporative system.

12. March 17, 2014. Check engine light goes on again.

Make appointment for Tuesday, March 18, 2014. March 18, 2014, drop off vehicle at Don K (10:00 am).=20

13. May 23, 2014. Navigation system shows me miles away from actual location and compass doesn't work. Make appointment for June 11, 2014. REPAIR ATTEMPT FOUR FOR NAVIGATION SYSTEM. Driving off lot system still doesn't work. Take back and navigation reset and then works.

14. July 13, 2014. Get in vehicle and navigation doesn't work (no compass and location is wrong by 50 miles).

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for contacting the Jeep Customer Assistance Center.

Chrysler is dedicated to producing a quality product and we are saddened to hear of the numerous issues you have had with your vehicle. Products are not put out onto the market with specific faults in mind and we cannot foresee when a vehicle may encounter any issues.

Your concerns, particularly in view of the inconvenience involved in this issue, are understandable and I appreciate the time and effort you took to bring this matter to my attention. A case has been opened for you and the number is at the bottom of this page.

Due to the nature of your concern, your file has been escalated for further review. We feel this referral action will provide the best resource for your concerns. A Case Manager will attempt to contact you within one business day at the phone number provided in your email 406.890.4678. If you wish to be reached at an alternative number, please respond so we may update your file appropriately.

We also would like to advise you of your currently incomplete recall, I have provided information below on the recall:

Chrysler Group will recall certain Jeep Grand Cherokee and Dodge Durango SUVs, model years 2011-2014, to install a cover over the brake boosters to minimize corrosion caused by undue water exposure.

Chrysler Group will inspect the brake boosters, and may replace them if braking capability has been reduced. All boosters will be equipped with a cover to insulate their crimp joints from water. What you must do to ensure your safety... Simply contact your Chrysler, Jeep, or Dodge dealer right away to start the process of getting the recall completed.

Thank you again for your email. Should you require additional assistance in the meantime, or have any new information to provide, please reply to this email message or call 1-877-I-AM-JEEP (1-877-426-5337).

Sincerely,

Sierra

Brief Description:

Lemon Law Demand

Comments:

The dealer has failed to fix a faulty navigation system FOUR TIMES. This is in addition to over 10 other trips to the dealer to fix a host of other defects. I would like to have this vehicle replaced. Below is the history of the problems, along with the specific instances (four) that the dealer has failed to fix the navigations system. Here is the history of my purchase. 1. Purchased on Friday, August 2. Car didnât start on lot; was told that was because âsomeone must have left the lights on.â 2. Picked up on Monday, August 5 after paying for âundercoatâ and inside/outside sealant. Navigation didn't work. Remote Start didn't work. 3. Returned vehicle same week and was told "problems fixed" after day long software reset. 4. Friday, August 9 (same week) car completely wouldn't start and stranded me on highway 93 in Montana. Car towed to dealer: they said "problems fixed" after changing grounding wire and updating software. 5. Picked up car on evening of Friday, August 9. Remote start fixed, but navigation frozen. 6. Navigation not fixed till September after two more visits to shop (a total of 4 trips to the shop within one month). 7. February 6, 2014. Check Engine repeatedly light goes on and then goes off after 3-5 days. Problem repeats but Don K says not to bring it in unless light on so they can get code. Bring to Don K on February 13, 2014. 8. February 13, 2014. Check engine light on. Don K reprograms instrument cluster. 9. March 4, 2014. Check engine light goes on; call for appointment on Thursday, March 6, 2014. Given appointment on Monday, March 10, 2014. Problem is apparently a bad reading on the vapor canister. Check engine light reset. 10. March 13, 2014. Check engine light goes on again. Make appointment for Friday, March 14, 2014. 11. March 14, 2014. Appointment at Don K. Replaced seal-vapor canister on evaporative system. 12. March 17, 2014. Check engine light goes on again. Make appointment for Tuesday, March 18, 2014. March 18, 2014, drop off vehicle at Don K (10:00 am). 13. May 23, 2014. Navigation system shows me miles away from actual location and compass doesnât work. Make appointment for June 11, 2014. REPAIR ATTEMPT FOUR FOR NAVIGATION SYSTEM. Driving off lot system still doesnât work. Take back and navigation reset and then works. 14. July 13, 2014. Get in vehicle and navigation doesnât work (no compass and location is wrong by 50 miles). Shani,

Three times I have tried to upload my Chrysler Capital statement (which also shows proof of payments). It keeps rejecting me; telling me to turn on cookies. I did. This is ridiculous. My Chrysler Capital account number is [REDACTED]. You can check. This is kinda insult to injury having to spend so much time on a defective web site.

I contacted the dealer and was told all the info they can obtain is the part is on back order with no expected date. I went on your site and it is accepting orders for this part. Some department at Mopar must have an expected avail date for this part. Can you please research this and provide me with a contact that can provide this information, if not please elevate this to your supervisor or the next higher level of customer care. Thanks again. To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to notify you of the problems I am experiencing with my 2014, Jeep Grand Cherokee SRT, 1C4RJFDJ8EC [REDACTED] and to request that you correct this problem within thirty (30) days of your receipt of this letter.

I purchased my vehicle from AUTONATION CHRYSLER, DODGE JEEP RAM, 21027 I-45 N, Spring, TX 77388 on March 23, 2014. The day after the purchase I noticed the problem with the right fender flare. I took photos of the vehicle while it was still at the dealership but did not see the flare was not lying flush against the fender. I took the vehicle back to the dealer for repairs on March 25, 2014 for repairs at which time the Dealership Service Advisor attempted to fix this problem at dealership. I was told that a new fender flare was needed. I was contacted and told to return the vehicle on April 12, 2014. The vehicle right fender flare was scratched and dented while in repairs at dealership or Caliber Collision, 3808 Louetta Rd, Spring, TX 77388 (Body Shop). I went to dealership anyway to get the vehicle and found scratches and scuff marks on right fender as well as dent and deep scratch on right fender flare. I contacted Chrysler Group LLC Customer Assistance Center (KMM8542463V55649LOKM) and was assigned a case [REDACTED]. I was being told that they were putting on a new flare while instead they continue to do body work on existing damaged flare. They continued to devalue my vehicle. It took 2 more attempts by dealership to, April 14, 2014, they painted fender flare but left dent in flare. Then on April 22, 2014, on the final attempt they told me they ordered the wrong side (left Fender Flare) versus the right fender flare and needed an additional day to fix. They used the same fender flare that they had been doing body work on and put it back on my vehicle.

On May 16, 2014 I took the vehicle to TEXAN Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram, 18555 HWY 59 N Humble, TX 77338. The blind spot alert warning system was not operating. It took three (3) visits (June 16th, 19th and 29th) to resolve this issue. I was told it was a loose ground wire causing the problem. However, the vehicle continues to have other electrical issues such as the collision sensor activating and breaking the vehicle with no pending collision. The entertainment center reboots and/or locks up. This issue brought to light the fender flare issue to greater light. When the dealership attempts to work on this electrical issue they had to remove the rear bumper. When they attempt to replace the rear wheel fender flares they did not align properly. On May 22, 2014 I was instructed to take the vehicle to Service King, 450 FM 1960 Bypass Rd

E, Humble, TX 77338, by my Service Advisor. The dealership could not get the fender flares to align properly and instructed me to see the manager. The Manager (Danny) took me in the back area of the body shop to show me that they were going to have to put glue on my vehicle to make the fender flares stay in place. He also advised me that this might only be a temporary fix. This issue fix was exacerbated when the blind spot sensor was became inoperable again and I had to take it back the 4th time on June 29th. Now with the fender flares glued, I knew that they had to due damage to remove these flares, to remove the rear bumper again to work on the sensor that controls the blind sport sensor. Chrysler Group LLC Customer Care contacted again and case [REDACTED] was assigned.

The problem substantially impairs the use and the value of my vehicle and/or serious safety hazard. Therefore, if you and/or your dealer are unable to correct this problem, I will expect you to replace or repurchase the vehicle pursuant to chapter 2301, Subchapter M of the Texas Occupations Code Annotated.

Please contact me on receipt of this letter at the above address or telephone number to arrange a mutually convenient date and time for you to have an opportunity to inspect my vehicle and make any necessary repairs.

I recently purchased a 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee Overland. Almost immediately after purchase the adaptive cruise control stopped working. I brought the car to get serviced at Dadeland Jeep (I purchased the vehicle at Arrigo Jeep) and was told that a new sensor needed to be ordered and would be in within 10 days. 10 days later, I contacted Jeep and was told that the new sensor could take MONTHS to arrive. This is unacceptable for service to a BRAND NEW VEHICLE. Please assist me. Thank you.

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS

RE: 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee Lease Agreement of James Bopp
VIN: 1C4RJFBG2EC [REDACTED]
Date of Lease: November 12, 2013

Dear Mr. Ballan:

I am contacting you regarding the above referenced matter. Our client, Dr. [REDACTED] leased a 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee from your dealership.

Since leasing the above referenced vehicle, the Forward Collision Avoidance: Adaptive Cruise Control System (hereinafter "FCA/ACC") has been defective. The system continuously reads "FCA/ACC not available - wipe radar sensor" Furthermore, the system does not detect if there is a vehicle in front of Mr. Bopp's vehicle because the sensor appears to be blocked; however, there is nothing obstructing the sensor.

In addition, the sensor reacts to objects that are not directly in front of the vehicle. This frequently occurs while [REDACTED] is driving under traffic highway signs or when approaching a vehicle that is in the right turn lane. The system will then periodically apply the vehicle's brakes, slowing it down considerably, and resulting in frequent near-accidents. Therefore, this defect increases the chance of a collision. (Please note that on June 4, 2014, the FCA/ACC system was recalled in 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee models.)

[REDACTED] has since made numerous attempts to have the system repaired. Nonetheless, the service providers at your dealership will neither test drive the vehicle nor perform the necessary repairs to correct the defective system.

Accident Avoidance/Adaptive Cruise Control Abrupt Operation

Comments:

Are there any software updates or plans for updates to address the adaptive cruise control's abrupt braking and acceleration under certain situations? The cruise will run up on slower moving vehicles, then abruptly apply the brakes in an emergency manner. Is there anything that can be done to ease up on speed sooner to make the adaptive cruise control operate more as how an alert driver would, as opposed to how an inattentive driver operates a vehicle with abrupt maneuvers? When a slower moving vehicle subsequently moves out of the way, the vehicle accelerates at full throttle back up to the set cruise speed instead of at a smooth pace. The operation of the adaptive cruise control is very annoying in certain traffic situations, and may be deemed dangerous, because drivers following behind me may not be able to react as quickly when the the brakes are applied so abruptly.

Let's discuss,

Subject: RE: Jeep Grand Cherokee Overland Issues
Importance: High

As most of you on this email know, I have been having issues with my Grand Cherokee Overland for over a year now. I have also taken my jeep into multiple dealerships to have repaired, wasting time out of my life for issues I shouldn't be having with a brand new car....this car should've been replaced a year ago. So I am happy to say that you have lost a customer for life as these problems still occur. This vehicle has been in the shop no less than 20 times since I bought it, my wife has a Honda Accord(10yrs old) and has been in the shop ZERO times except for routine maintenance like oil changes and such. I am still having electronic issues and smoke still comes out the back when I start it from time to time.....I am not a mechanic but I do know that a big puff of white smoke isn't supposed to come from a new car. Once again I will highlight the ongoing issues I have been having:

- 1) There are times that when I start my car a big puff of white smoke that smells like burnt oil comes from the back of the Jeep. The car then drives like crap the rest of the day, it doesn't happen every time I start the car. I have had the Jeep in 3 times to have this fixed and it still happens.
- 2) I will be driving along and the advanced collision warning will tell me to brake.....even if there isn't a car anywhere near me. It will sometimes happen if there is a car next to me, which isn't even in front of me so I have no idea why it comes on. Sometimes it will even put on the brakes when I am driving on the highway, which to make sure we are all on the same page....it isn't safe.
- 3) I was recently driving to Corpus Christi, Texas and it was raining. I hit a big bump in the road and the collision warning came on and the car slammed on the brakes almost causing me to wreck my car. So we are all on the same page, its not safe for a car to slam on the brakes when the roads are wet. The eye/electronics in this car are messed up and continue to have issues....especially if I hit a big bump.
- 4) I have had issues where the side warning will come on and wont turn off, I actually have to stop the car and turn it off before it will turn off.....I have sent this video before when this happened the first time. This continues to happen and its frustrating to have to pull over and turn off your car.
- 5) There are also times that my stereo will lock up as well....I have already had that replaced once. I have to turn off car to get that to unlock.

I would love nothing more than to drop this car off and be done with it since this is the 2nd Jeep Grand Cherokee Overland that I have had issues with but I don't want to hurt my credit. The next corporate meeting you can bring up this success story on how after a year the customer who bought one of your top of the line Jeeps is still having issues with his car. That should get everyone really pumped up and excited about the quality of the Jeep line that you are putting out there.

I have also posted on my facebook and Instagram warning people about the Jeep Grand Cherokee and the issues I am having so that no one else will waste their money on this vehicle. In fact I have told two of my close friends who were looking at the Jeep not to buy it because of all the issues I have had, the horrible service from the dealership (currently called Autonation, was formally Spring Chrysler Jeep Dodge)....both bought different cars.

Please do not reach out to me unless you are replacing my Jeep or giving me my money back. I have spent way too much time on this car already and I will never buy a Jeep or Chrysler product again.

Rick-

Yet again we have another issue. They finally fixed the issue with the jeep but they decided not to pay for the rental car that they and Jill Carter agreed that would be paid for. Autonation (formally Spring Dodge Chrysler Jeep) had my car for 19 days before they found the issue and had it fixed. The total bill for the rental car was $759.94 but they only paid $300 now leaving me with a $379.94 bill to pay for a brand new car that was not running properly. I left Jill a message last week but have yet to hear back from her.

I have also tried working with the dealership but it has been 4 weeks now without a check for the remaining balance. My car is also having transmission issues but I am in outside sales and I need my car for work and can't be without a car. I promise you that this will be my last vehicle that I buy from Chrysler, I have had nothing but issues and no one wants to help.

Rick-

I recently bought a Jeep Grand Cherokee Overland in June/July and I have been having issues with it ever since. It has 6,400 miles on it and has been in the shop 7 times for various reasons. The latest round of issues are more serious and I need your help. The Jeep has some sort of computer/software/electrical issues. I will be driving down the road with no one near me and the car will tell me to brake; it will also brake on its own and then flash the brake warning light. I am taking the vehicle in AGAIN today to have them look at it again. Last night my wife and I are driving down I-45 (about 70 mph) when the braking mechanism activated again and it locked up my brakes slowing the car down to 60 mph, there wasn't another car near me when this happened. My wife will no longer ride in the Jeep after last night and this has become a safety issue with this car. I am in outside sales and I drive to accounts for a living, I can not be having these issues.

I am trying to work with a Mr Kelsey Clay at Chrysler but there is no sense of urgency to get this fixed. The take it back in approach isn't going to work anymore.

Do I need to get an attorney to get this matter handled? Do I need to file the car under the lemon law?

If my wife and I get hurt because of the issues with this car, Chrysler will have more issues than just replacing the car and giving me a car that works. That is all I am asking for, give me one that works or give me my money back. Put yourself in my place, would you want your family in car that is having these issues? Doubtful.

I hope you can see the issues at hand and help get them resolved.

Thanks,
