Dear Kia Motors America,

The above noted subrogation claim has been identified as a product liability loss. We paid our insured for their loss and are looking to you for reimbursement. Should you or your carrier need more information, please call or write me. Please remit payment to Allstate Recovery Unit, P.O. Box 650271, Dallas, TX 75265. Please include our claim number.

Complete description of the incident: This loss occurred in Norwalk, CT. The vehicle was purchased October 2011. On the date of loss our insured had parked the vehicle at 12:30 am and was woken up by the police and fire dept around 1:40 am letting her know the vehicle was on fire. Our expert Dick Morris of Remco inspected the vehicle and found that the focal point of the fire was at the front where the driver's side headlight would have been. He notes the potential of a manufacturer issue with the wiring harnesses under the vehicle, and recommends further destructive inspection with Kia to remove the skid plates to fully investigate and determine the exact cause of the fire. Please let me know if Kia wants to send someone to participate in this further destructive inspection or if our expert needs to do it by himself.

Our statement of defect: Strict Liability
Location of evidence: Copart, 138 Christian Lane, New Britain, CT 06051. 860-666-1183, lot # 20357322.

DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENT

On July 12, 2012 Mark Worsman, Senior Claims Adjuster for Allstate Insurance Company contacted me requesting an origin and cause fire investigation be performed on a 2010 Kia Forte VIN# KNAFU6A22A5 [REDACTED] owned by [REDACTED], Norwalk, Connecticut [REDACTED].

Mark explained the vehicle owner parked the vehicle on 261 Ely Avenue around 12:30 a.m. on July 4, 2012 and was woken by the Norwalk Police and Fire Departments around 1:40 a.m. stating that her vehicle was on fire. She purchased the vehicle in 2011. To the best of her knowledge she has had no problems with the vehicle, however she did bring it to the car dealership for a noise in the front end of the vehicle, which the dealership found nothing wrong.

Mark further stated the vehicle is at Copart Salvage Yard, New Britain, under stock number [REDACTED].

ACTIVITIES

On July 13, 2012 I traveled to Copart Salvage Yard at 138 Christian Lane, New Britain, Connecticut to inspect the vehicle. As you can see in photograph one I began walking clockwise around the vehicle. In photograph two you can see that the passenger side of the vehicle as depicted shows not severe damage, however you can see the damage of the hood of the vehicle and that the windshield was compromised. The wheels, door handles, mirrors, and lights all appeared to be intact. The rear of the vehicle was the same with damage to the vehicle at a minimum. As you walk around to the driver's side of the vehicle you can see the damage start at the front of the vehicle however, the rear tire wheel and accessories are in place up to the front fender of the vehicle. As you can see in photograph number five, of the front of the vehicle, the damage starts at what would have been the front headlight. I looked closely at this area; it appeared this was the focal point of the fire. You can see the high oxidization on the metals, and also the wiring harnesses that were in this area and the front left tire is burned and deflated.

Looking straight down at the vehicle in photograph seven you can see the fire pattern of travel in this area and again close up in photograph eight; the battery, fuse box, and computer, all of these items are in this area, and appear to be fire attack not fire origin.

I then had the opportunity to have the vehicle lifted and as you can see in the undercarriage of the vehicle looking from the rear to the front, the fire damage is minimal, however when you look underneath the engine compartment itself you begin to see oxidization and more pronounced damaged as evidenced in photograph ten moving forward. In photograph eleven you can see oxidization on the wiring harness as depicted in photograph eleven.

This area had interest to me, however it was not disturbed or touched because this investigator felt doing so would necessitate breaking items or have issues that needed to be fully removed in order to fully expose the wiring harness.

As you can see in photograph twelve there is an unusual burn pattern depicted by the red arrow, this area should be removed, you can see oxidization, the nut that fastens the bottom plate has corrosion. This needs to be removed and fully inspected with members of Kia Motors. As you can see in the underside of the engine compartment, on the strut there is a fluid leak. There is saturation there, however around the oil pan is fully clean, and the oil filter appears to be clean as well. I photographed the VIN label and date code in the driver's door, and photographed the interior as you can see in photograph fifteen. Photograph sixteen is the underside of the dashboard; here it clearly looks like there is fire attack in this area along the bulkhead fire wall. I saw a lot of fire damage. And the fuse box in the dashboard was exposed, fuses were not removed or checked because it's unknown whether it would be pre-fire damage that they would be blown or compromised. Shown in photograph eighteen is the vehicle identification label for the fuse box.

In an overall view as you can see in photograph nineteen of the dashboard keyway and damaged windshield from the passenger side of the vehicle and then looking at the rear seats you can see that the vehicle has a child seat that was unaffected during the fire.

The patterns of fire appear to come from the headlight area working towards into the engine compartment. All of the indicators that this investigator observed, hoses, melted plastic, all appeared to travel this way as well as the fire damage on the bulkhead firewall, where the fuel lines connect within the vehicle.

This investigator would like the opportunity to revisit this vehicle with Kia Motors to open the skid plate on the vehicle to remove it and to be able to trace out the wiring harnesses that are encased in plastic and show corrosion to further examine this vehicle.

This investigator did not have the opportunity to visit the actual loss location or to speak with the occupant/owner of the vehicle.

FINDINGS

It is the opinion of this investigator that this fire be further investigated with Kia Motors for the potential of a manufacturers issue with the wiring harnesses under the vehicle, within the vehicles engine compartment and other potential ignition sources in order to be able to fully expose them, remove skid plates and also have full access to the engine compartment to investigate. This investigator found that the oil levels on the oil dipstick were at appropriate operating level and the vehicle appeared to be clean and well maintained during my investigation. The fire pattern appears to emanate from the headlight area, moving back toward the engine compartment although there is significant burn damage from the underside of the vehicle at the engine and bulkhead firewall location. This investigator would like at the same time the opportunity to trace the fuel lines and also remove any items that would be in the way to allow full exposure of wiring harnesses, fuel lines, and details on the headlights, and to be able to remove the passenger headlight to inspect the bulbs that were in the vehicle. This fire remains open and under investigation. This investigator awaits further direction from Allstate Insurance.

STATUS

REMCo Fire Investigations will conduct no further investigation without specific instructions from you. This investigator reserves the right to amend/or supplement this report should additional information, documentation, or evidence becomes available. Problem Description :

Customer states check engine light is on and vehicle is running rough.

Diagnostics Performed :

Found wires chewed through at ignition coil number one. Ignition coil was burnt in half. I replaced the connector, coil, and spark plug. Started vehicle. Within a minute the coil was extremely hot and smoking. That coil melted. Used schematic sd313-5. Traced wires all the way back to pcm. Ohm checked wires also. Both wires ohmed good. Checked coil three and seen 13+ volts coming out of both wires. One was on and off. Checked for voltage at pcm on terminal one. No voltage, so I replaced pcm. Started vehicle and still misfires and coil was hot but did not melt. I'm lost! Car has been here since May 10th.

CARFAX Price Adjustment™

Accidents, service records, number of owners and many other history factors can affect a vehicle's value. The CARFAX Price Adjustment is a tool that analyzes millions of used car transactions to measure how the combination of all the information reported to CARFAX affects the value of a particular vehicle. The vehicle's retail book value plus the CARFAX Price Adjustment will give you a more accurate measure of the vehicle's value. Use this tool, along with a vehicle inspection and test drive, to make a better decision about your next used car.

First Owner

When the first owner(s) obtains a title from a Department of Motor Vehicles as proof of ownership.

Ownership History

CARFAX defines an owner as an individual or business that possesses and uses a vehicle. Not all title transactions represent changes in ownership. To provide estimated number of owners, CARFAX proprietary technology analyzes all the events in a vehicle history. Estimated ownership is available for vehicles manufactured after 1994 and titled solely in the US including Puerto Rico. Dealers sometimes opt to take ownership of a vehicle and are required to in the following states: Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and South Dakota. Please consider this as you review a vehicle's estimated ownership history.

Title Issued

A state issues a title to provide a vehicle owner with proof of ownership. Each title has a unique number. Each title or registration record on a CARFAX report does not necessarily indicate a change in ownership. In Canada, a registration and bill of sale are used as proof of ownership.

ASSIGNMENT

The assignment was received from Julia West of State Farm on June 19, 2014 and the investigation commenced on June 20, 2014. Instructions were to conduct an origin and cause investigation.

On June 23, 2014, Julia West of State Farm requested a written report be prepared and submitted outlining the origin and cause of the fire. Ms. West also requested an attempt be made to acquire the maintenance records from the Kia dealer.

SUMMARY

The fire originated in the engine compartment of the vehicle in the area between the engine and the bulkhead.

The first fuel ignited was the gasoline leaking from the neoprene fuel line. The ignition source was the hot components of the exhaust system. The first fuel and ignition sources came together due to the break in the neoprene fuel line which allowed the gasoline to leak onto the hot components of the exhaust system.

The other possible ignition sources in the engine compartment were eliminated with the engine being off and the electrical circuits not energized.

FIRE SCENE EXAMINATION

The vehicle was inspected at Manheim Marketing, Inc., dba Total Resource Auctions located in Bridgeton, MO.

The risk is 2010 Kia Forte Koup, black in color with a four cylinder gas engine with a manual transmission.

There were no adverse conditions affecting the vehicle inspection. The vehicle had not been altered prior to the inspection.

The exterior of the vehicle had fire damage to the front including the hood, grill, and bumper, left front and right front fenders. The rear of the vehicle did not have fire damage. The passenger side had fire damage to the front edge of the door and to the mirror.

The windshield was fire damaged from the bottom up at the hood. The windshield had fallen on the dashboard. The rest of the windows in the vehicle were smoked over. The passenger side door window had been broken by the fire department during suppression operations.

The front tires were fire damaged and deflated from the fire damage.

The interior of the vehicle had smoke, heat and fire damage with the fire extending into the interior through the windshield and through the bulkhead.

The engine compartment had fire damage with the fire damage extending out from the center rear of the engine compartment.

The engine is a transverse mounted engine with the drive belts on the passenger side of the engine compartment. The fuel injectors and fuel rail were on the front side of the engine with fire damage. The fire damage was coming from the back of the engine compartment.

The end of the fuel rail metal fuel line was connected to a neoprene fuel line. The neoprene fuel line was consumed in the fire. The neoprene fuel line made a 90 degree turn to another metal fuel line which was perpendicular to the engine. On the end of the perpendicular fuel line was the remains of a neoprene fuel line material and a clamp.

The perpendicular fuel line extended towards the rear of the engine compartment. At the end of the perpendicular fuel line would have been a neoprene fuel line. The neoprene fuel line was consumed in the fire and the clamp holding the neoprene fuel line to the metal fuel line was not present.

The end of the fuel line was to the driver side of the heat shielding for the exhaust manifold. The heat shielding for the exhaust manifold only covered the manifold to the donut connection at the exhaust pipe. The end of the catalytic convertor was visible at the bottom of the bulkhead.

The fire originated in the engine compartment of the vehicle in the area between the engine and the bulkhead.

The first fuel ignited was the gasoline leaking from the neoprene fuel line. The ignition source was the hot components of the exhaust system. The first fuel and ignition sources came together due to the break in the neoprene fuel line which allowed the gasoline to leak onto the hot components of the exhaust system.

The other possible ignition sources in the engine compartment were eliminated with the engine being off and the electrical circuits not energized.

A check of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration found one recall pertaining to this vehicle and the recall was for exterior lighting, which could lead a crash.

INVESTIGATION

The fire was discovered by [REDACTED] who reported the fire to 911.

[REDACTED] purchased the vehicle new in February 2010 from Napleton Kia, which is now called Mid Rivers Kia in St. Peters, MO. At the time of the fire there was approximately 50,000 to 60,000 miles on the vehicle.

The vehicle was last serviced in May 2014 by Mid Rivers Kia for repairs to the plastic trim for the driver's seat. Two years before the fire, the ECM was replaced by Mid Rivers Kia.

A couple days before the fire, Mr. [REDACTED] smelled gas while working in the yard of his residence. He thought it was his yard equipment providing the smell of gasoline. He later drove to a friend's house and still smelled gasoline. His friend's house was five miles from Mr. [REDACTED]'s house. He was at his friend's house for about five hours. He then returned home and still smelled gasoline. He checked under his vehicle and checked in the engine compartment and did not see anything wrong. He had his friend check to see if there was any gasoline on the ground where he parked and there was none.

The next day, Mr. [REDACTED] went to the gym, which was twenty miles from his home and he was there for about thirty minutes. The vehicle was harder to restart. Then he drove home. While driving home, he did notice a lack of power and the vehicle little sluggish. He still smelled gasoline to and from the gym.

When Mr. [REDACTED] got home, he turned off the engine and opened the hood. He then looked under the vehicle and saw wetness on the ground, but he did not touch or smell the wetness. With the hood opened, he restarted the vehicle and looked into the engine compartment and saw the leak in the fuel line. The break in the fuel line was between the engine and the bulkhead. The fuel line was black in color and felt like rubber. The leak in the fuel line was allowing the gasoline to gush out like a faucet. He shut-off the engine and closed the hood. He went into his house to call Mid Rivers Kia to find out what to do.

While on the telephone with Mid Rivers Kia, he looked out a window and saw white smoke coming from the engine compartment. He hung up and called 911 to report the fire. He went outside and there was fire coming from under the hood at the windshield and then from the sides of the hood.

The fire was reported to and extinguished by the Cottleville Fire Protection District on June 17, 2014. A request has been made for a copy of the fire incident report and the fire incident report will be forwarded once it is received.

COMMENTS

A verbal report was made to Julia West of State Farm on June 23, 2014.

In compliance with the instructions of Julia West of State Farm, the origin and cause investigation is complete with this report and the file will be closed.

The fire investigation was conducted in accordance with the scientific method as outlined in NFPA 921, 2014 edition.
