Hello Jason,

Here are the latest updates for the case that we are working for you.

I would like to start by apologizing for such a delay in your update. We are currently working a record number of cases and this so happened to be one of those I allowed to slip through my fingers.

I have changed your case over to replacing part number 24299153. Sprint has exhausted on this part. I've submitted a new inquiry to our source regarding this part.

There is stock in transit to processing facility 077 which is not quite enough to cover your case.

You will receive a status update within 96 business hours (due to extreme caseload) or I can update you as new information becomes available. Please advise which you'd prefer.

Thank you for your continued patience.

Good evening,

I need 1 piece for a critical order as soon as possible. Do you have any inventory available on part # 24286362 to ship directly to the dealer? Can you confirm your source code is 7568?

If a dealer direct is not available, can you please provide me with a valid reason why this part can't be shipped?

May I also have a tentative eta as to when this part will be shipping?

Any information you can provide would be appreciated.

Thank you,
