RE: Nuna Baby Essentials, Inc.'s Response to Defect Petition (DP24-003)

Dear Ms. Topka,

Nuna Baby Essentials, Inc. ("Nuna") will be responding on June 21 to NHTSA's Information Request regarding Defect Petition (DP24-003) (the "Petition"). Although Nuna's response will address most of NHTSA's requests, the purpose of this letter is to request a partial extension of an additional thirty days to complete the response to Questions 2, 4 and 5 insofar as those responses require us to retrieve data from a legacy data system.

The Petition encompasses information dating back to 2016, when the Rava car seat entered the consumer market. From 2016 until October 2020, Nuna collected consumer data through a consumer management system (CMS) called Wilke. Nuna's CMS system then switched to a platform called Zendesk, which is currently being used by the company. Nuna can retrieve the Wilke CMS data from 2016 to October 2020, and intends to produce it to NHTSA: however, these older data have proven to be more difficult to format in accordance with your requests. These older data must be manually downloaded and reviewed to ensure completeness and accuracy, and this process is taking considerably more time than initially anticipated. While we may be able to include a portion of the Wilke CMS data on June 21, 2024, Nuna will not be able to complete its review of these legacy data files by that date. Accordingly, Nuna is respectfully requesting a thirty-day extension (to July 22, 2024) in order to provide the Wilke data pertaining to question numbers 2, 4 and 5. Although we anticipate that the responses to the remaining questions that we intend to provide on June 21, 2024 will be complete, we will supplement that response if we identify any additional responsive information during our review of the Wilke data.

Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully,
