

POTENTIAL EVIDENCE

Item(s) is potential evidence relevant to the investigation of the fire that occurred at this location. The item(s) has been marked to preserve the condition and location. Please do not intentionally or negligently hide, alter, destroy, or move the existing condition or location of this evidence. Failure to follow this cautionary notice may result in accepting liability for spoliation of evidence which can carry fines and possible incarceration.

If there is an immediate and absolute necessity that requires the movement of these marked items, please contact Fire and Evidence Consultants, LLC at (937) 237-4000 and ask to speak with the Evidence Technician. Provide the following information upon calling: your name, location of the fire, your involvement, and the reason the items need to be stored or moved.
