* SYSTEM, THIS MESSAGE IS BEING SENT IN TWO PARTS *
* FOR PART 2 SEE DCS982. *

On August 13, 2002 the implementation of Product Safety Recall 02032 was announced via GM Administrative Message WIA20020061 and you recently received a paper copy of the recall bulletin.

The bulletin states that some of the affected air bag inflator modules were shipped to dealers by GMSPO between May 30, 2002 and July 15, 2002 and could have been used to service 2001-2003 model vehicles. The purpose of this message is to provide instructions relative to the disposition of these suspect parts.

Included with this message is a list that identifies the involved part numbers along with corresponding GMSPO invoice numbers and invoice dates. The name of the ordering dealer is also provided. The list is sorted by the ordering dealer's GMSPO dealer code. The GM Business Associate Code (BAC) for each involved dealer is also indicated. After identifying your dealership on the list, please complete the following steps as soon as possible:

1. Check to see if the suspect air bag inflator module is in your parts inventory. If NO go to Step 2. If yes, open the box and locate the 14 character bar code found on the rear side of the air bag module. Then compare the last five characters of the bar code with those listed below:

AKSZW	B1XEN	B5ZKE	BAXMA	BFX7Y
AT88D	B2PRX	B6GSH	BAXTQ	BPFNR
ATDBV	B2FYA	B6C8P	BAYQS	BE41G
AW47D	B2WQ7	B6DON	BAYUY	BE44R
AW5CF	B3O4J	BAG04	BAZCG	BE4R2
AY5HR	B4DPZ	BAQVF	BC2QS
AZWF4	B5FSE	BAQGW	BD29B

If the last five characters of the bar code match, the air bag is defective and must be returned to the supplier. DO NOT RETURN TO GMSPO. See Product Safety Recall Bulletin 02032 for parts return information. If the bar code characters do not match, the air bag is not defective and can be restocked in your parts inventory.

If it is necessary to remove a defective air bag from your parts inventory, a "B" type warranty claim should be submitted for the part cost using labor operation V0895. Please submit for the current GMSPO dealer net price plus applicable parts markup and the 0.1 labor hour administrative allowance. All such claims will require authorization code "G".

2. Check your Parts Department sales records to determine the name, address and telephone number of any possible purchaser(s) of the suspect air bag inflator module.
3. If the identified purchaser(s) is the owner of a vehicle in which the suspect inflator module may have been installed, please obtain the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) in addition to the required owner information.
4. If the identified purchaser(s) is a body shop or independent repair facility, please contact them to obtain the vehicle owner's name, address and telephone number along with the VIN of the vehicle in which the suspect inflator module may have been installed.
5. For each identified owner of a vehicle in which the suspect inflator module may have been installed, complete the "RECALL 02032 SERVICE PART TRACKING FORM" (which is included at the end of this document) and fax it to the General Motors Customer Assistance Center at 503-844-5121. Please use extra copies if there is more than one possible owner/vehicle.

- If after carefully checking your Parts Department sales records, you are not able to identify any possible purchaser(s) of the suspect inflator module, please complete the dealer section of the form and print "NIF" (No Information Found) in the purchaser section. Then fax it to the telephone number provided above.

- If it was necessary to contact a body shop or independent repair facility that purchased the suspect inflator module and they are not able to identify any possible vehicles in which the suspect inflator module may have been installed, please complete the dealer and purchaser sections of the form and print "NIF" (No Information Found) in the owner section. Then fax it to the telephone number provided above.

Upon receipt of a completed tracking form, the Customer Assistance Center will call each owner to expedite the completion of this recall. They will also arrange for the subject VIN to be added to the recall section of the General Motors Vehicle Inquiry System (GMVIS) and ensure that a recall notification letter is sent to the owner. If necessary, the Customer Assistance Center will also make follow-up telephone calls to involved dealers and/or independent repair facilities.
