

April 2005

Dear General Motors Customer:

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Reason For This Recall: General Motors has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain 2005 model year Chevrolet Uplander and Pontiac Montana SV6 vans. In a severe side impact test, a part of the vehicle deformed and actuated the outboard release handle of a second-row bucket seat and the rear latches became unlatched early during the crash sequence. If the rear latches of the seat are released early in a severe side impact crash, the potential for injury to the occupant of the seat is increased.

What Will Be Done: Your GM dealer will remove the seat latch release handle and install a black plastic cap over the exposed metal stud to eliminate the side impact safety concern. Please note that even though the handle is not being replaced, seat functionality is not diminished as the primary release strap remains at the rear of the seat. This service will be performed for you at no charge.

How Long Will The Repair Take? This service correction will take approximately 15 minutes. However, due to service scheduling requirements, your dealer may need your vehicle for a longer period of time.
