

May 2005

Dear General Motors Customer:

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Reason For This Recall: General Motors has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain 2003-2005 model year Chevrolet Kodiak and GMC TopKick vehicles equipped with air bags. On some of these vehicles, the wiring harness that is routed under the floor mat in the driver's foot area may become damaged with repeated entering and exiting of the vehicle. If damage were to occur to the harness, the roof marker lights and dome lamp may become inoperative, the airbag warning light may illuminate, and there may be a driver or passenger unwanted airbag deployment while the vehicle is stationary or moving. An occupant that is too close to an inflating airbag could be seriously injured.

What Will Be Done: Your GM dealer will install a protective sleeve around the harness and repair any damage to the harness. This service will be performed for you at no charge.

How Long Will The Repair Take? This service correction will take approximately 20-40 minutes. However, due to service scheduling requirements, your dealer may need your vehicle for a longer period of time.

Contacting Your Dealer: To limit any possible inconvenience, we recommend that you contact your dealer as soon as possible to schedule an appointment for this repair.
