We have (5) units that we are unable to notify.

We have (2) units that our customers refuse to respond to our kits or repeated phone calls.

(Qua. Revised 02/12/08)

Two (2) vehicles have been determined to have been wrecked in transit from Spokane, Washington.

There are two (2) cancelled orders and one (1) duplicate order that are in the count of (466).

Note: The original count of 508 was revised downward to 466 on May 22, 2007 due to initial incorrect calculations on my part.

04/24/08 In conclusion, we have contacted all customers except the (5) we could not locate.

We have (1) unit left to remedy. We have contacted the owner, and know the location of the unit, and know that the existing bolts are tight. We just don't know if they are the correct bolts.

This unit has not been in service for some time, so the owner/operator has not been too concerned with actually removing and replacing the bolts if necessary.
