Dear Ferrari Customer:

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Ferrari S.p.A., the manufacturer of Ferrari automobiles, has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in certain Model Year 2005 – 2007 Ferrari 612 Scaglietti with F1 transmissions vehicles.

The defect involves the presence of a non-conforming clutch sensor in the F1 transmission. This non-conforming clutch sensor which is part of the F1 transmission may malfunction under normal operating conditions due to the heat produced by the vehicle. Such sensor malfunction, in turn, may inhibit the proper function of the clutch assembly making the shifting of the gears very difficult. The vehicle system immediately detects the clutch sensor failure and causes the warning light to illuminate. This clutch sensor malfunction may render the vehicle inoperable and, possibly, resulting in a crash.

If the clutch sensor warning light illuminates, please stop driving the vehicle immediately and avoid driving it until the repairs described below have been performed.

The vehicles affected are as follows:

Model Year 2005 – 2007 Ferrari 612 Scaglietti F1 in the VIN range:
ZFFAA54A050136719 to ZFFJB54A780157391.

The remedy for this problem consists of replacing the non-conforming clutch sensor for the F1 transmission. In addition, as an added measure, FNA will replace the cable holder and magnet which is part of the replacement kit.

Because your vehicle is among those affected with the above condition, we ask you to contact any Authorized Ferrari Dealer immediately in order to arrange for an inspection of your automobile and to have the corrective action performed.

The corrective actions for above-listed repair will be performed free of charge to you and will require approximately six (6) hours to complete at the dealer. Please plan, however, to leave your vehicle with the dealership to allow the dealer some flexibility for scheduling your repairs.
