Safety Recall #2008-080004

September, 2008

Dear Mercedes-Benz Owner,

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Daimler AG (DAG), the manufacturer of Mercedes-Benz vehicles, has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in certain Model Year 2001 - 2008 CL, Model Year 2003 - 2007 SL, and Model Year 2002 - 2007 S-Class vehicles with regard to the Active Body Control (ABC) sensors. Mercedes-Benz USA, LLC (MBUSA) therefore has initiated a recall of these vehicles. Our records indicate that your vehicle is included in the affected population of vehicles.

WE SENT YOU THIS NOTICE BECAUSE WE ARE CONCERNED ABOUT YOUR SAFETY.

Vehicles with Active Body Control (ABC) are equipped with acceleration sensors on the front struts. These sensors measure acceleration around the z-axis of the vehicle and assure an automatic adaptation of the front struts to maintain a relatively level body position. Daimler AG (DAG) has determined that variations in the suppliers soldering process resulted in soldering points on the board of the ABC sensors which may not be within design tolerances. As a result, signals from affected sensors measuring the acceleration may not be accurately transmitted to the Active Body Control Module. A variation in the transmitted values between affected and unaffected sensors can result in one front strut adjusting to a value indicating body movement while another strut does not adjust presenting the driver with an uneven front suspension. A warning will be shown in the instrument cluster if this result occurs. This condition may lead to unexpected body movements at the front axle which can adversely influence the vehicle's directional stability and could lead to a vehicle crash.

Your authorized Mercedes-Benz dealer can check and replace, if necessary, the front ABC sensors in all potentially affected vehicles. This service will be provided free of charge. The working time required is approximately 1 hour. As a matter of normal service process, your authorized Mercedes-Benz dealer will also check for other repair measures which might be applicable to your vehicle and this may increase the required working time. Please contact your authorized Mercedes-Benz dealer for additional information and to schedule an appointment at your earliest convenience. Please mention Recall Campaign #2008-080004.
