Dear Mr. Zamani:

I am writing to you on behalf of Don Brubaker of Entegra Coach, a subsidiary of Jayco Corporation. He shared with me, correspondence sent by NHTSA's Patricia Wallace on behalf of George Person. This correspondence was in reference to safety recalls 08E-031 and 08V-269 recalling certain Freightliner chassis manufactured between July 1, 2007 and October 9, 2007 due to defective transverse beam assemblies.

According to the correspondence from NHTSA, in Freightliner's Defect Information Report, Entegra Coach was identified as a purchaser of one or more of these units. After an extensive and thorough review of our records, we have determined that Entegra Coach has not purchased a chassis affected by this recall.

There may be some confusion on your part surrounding Jayco Corporation's acquisition of certain assets of the now defunct Travel Supreme. Therefore, I wish to make it clear that neither Entegra Coach nor Jayco, Inc. will be participating in the aforementioned recall pursuant to the fact that neither entity purchased a chassis affected by this recall.

A copy of this letter will be directed to Pat Wallace at NHTSA. Should you have any questions about this matter, please feel free to contact me directly at my email address.

Sincerely,

Joe Resil
