Mr. Ansley,

The switches in question are not defective. If they were used to the performance specifications in our catalog there would not be a problem. If another vehicle manufacturer applied the switches correctly they're would not be a problem.

Mr. D'Addario,
Is there any reason to believe the recalled switches would be defective if used in the correct application by another vehicle manufacturer?

Mr. Ansley:

Carling Technologies sells its L series, a standard product line, to others in the transportation industry. Carling's catalog provides performance specifications to its standard products such as the L series. Its customers select switches based upon those specifications. Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance.

Mr. D'Addario,
Good morning. Regarding Mack Trucks, Inc headlight switch recall #08V-688 (attached), did Carling Technologies, Inc. supply the same or similar recalled equipment to other vehicle manufacturers or replacement equipment manufacturers?

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Alex Ansley
