Safety Recall Notice 12S27

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Ford Motor Company has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in your vehicle, which was built on a chassis supplied by Ford, with the Vehicle Identification Number shown above.

We apologize for this situation and want to assure you that, with your assistance, we will correct this condition. Our commitment, together with your dealer, is to provide you with the highest level of service and support.

What is the issue?

On your vehicle, it is possible that over time, the cable for the transmission range indicator "PRND321" on the instrument cluster may be cut due to a sharp edge on the shift lever arm. If the indicator cable is cut, the indicator will remain in the "1" position (first gear) regardless of what gear is selected. With no gear indication, the operator may inadvertently select an incorrect gear, increasing the risk of a crash.

What will Ford and your dealer do?

Ford Motor Company has authorized your Ford dealer to replace the transmission range indicator assembly and shift lever arm free of charge (parts and labor).

How long will it take?

The time needed for this repair is less than one-half day. However, due to service scheduling requirements, your dealer may need your vehicle for a longer period of time.

What should you do?

Please call your Ford dealer without delay and request a service date for Recall 12S27. Provide the dealer with the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) of your vehicle. The VIN is printed near your name at the beginning of this letter.

If you do not already have a servicing dealer, you can access www.Fordowner.com for dealer addresses, maps, and driving instructions.
