The Parts Information and Service Procedure sections in this bulletin have been revised. Service Kit 23425126 contains a solenoid and nut intended to go on the regulator. These parts are no longer required for this repair and should be discarded. Use the regulator contained in CNG High Press Regulator Kit 19330022 to complete this repair. Also determine if safety recall 14321 has been performed on the vehicle by checking IVH for labor code 9100993 and follow the directions provided in step 1 of the service procedure in this bulletin. Please see the attached bulletin for details and discard all copies of bulletin 13139.
