

Important Safety Bulletin

Some confusion exists regarding the use of the furnace in your Trials West RPM snowmobile trailer. To clarify any misunderstanding, refer to the warning which is included in the owner's packet you received upon delivery of your trailer. The warning reads:

“Warning! Be sure the furnace and all ignition systems are “OFF” during any type of refueling and while vehicle is in motion or being towed.”

In addition, many states and provinces require the furnace be turned off and propane bottles be shut off while the trailer is being towed.

Failure to heed this instruction can and has resulted in melting of furnace components and in some cases has resulted in the incineration of the trailer and its contents.

Use your furnace and its integrated timer system for your comfort, to melt snow and ice from your sleds and to dry clothing when the trailer is parked.

We regret any misunderstanding regarding the use of the furnace, but your safety is our main concern.
