Subject: NHTSA Safety Recall Number 14V-569 / Van Hool P732
Defect: Steering Knuckle Carriers
Affected units: Van Hool coaches model TD925

Van Hool NV decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in the above-mentioned coaches: the material of certain front steering knuckle carriers may not meet the minimum requirements for a front GAWR of 17640 lb or higher. Early fatigue may lead to cracks and finally loss of functionality. The driver might feel some vibrations in the steering wheel. In case of total failure however, a wheel could separate from the coach, which may cause a crash.

It is necessary to identify both front steering knuckle carriers on your vehicle(s) with a front axle GAWR of 17640 lb or higher. If this identification determines that a steering knuckle carrier is affected, it must be replaced immediately. For more details, refer to the service bulletin SB1272.
