2009 Nissan GT-R Steering Column Upper Bearing Repair Update

Reference: R1502
Date: February 6, 2015

Attention: Dealer Principal, Sales, Service & Parts Managers

* Dealer Announcement *******

On January 29th, Nissan sent out a STOP SALE announcement to communicate a voluntary safety recall campaign to replace the steering column assembly on certain specific MY 2009 Nissan GT-R vehicles, manufactured at the Tochigi, Japan plant between March 14, 2007 through April 25, 2008.

This communication is to let dealers know that the final repair procedure NTB15-007 is now available.

* What Dealers Should Do *******

1. Verify if vehicles currently in dealer inventory are affected by this recall campaign using Service Comm I.D. R1502
2. Order parts as necessary using the order form available on www.NNAnet.com.
 - If a customer does not want to drive their vehicle, rental is available while waiting on parts as per our original announcement.

* Repair Instructions *******

Nissan has developed bulletin NTB15-007 containing instructions to perform this recall campaign. The bulletin and information above will be available on ASIST and on www.NNAnet.com on February 6th, 2015.

* Dealer Communication *******

Beginning February 6th, 2015, dealers can find a copy of this announcement on NNAnet.com under My Documents in three locations:
