Dear Volkswagen Owner,

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. |------------------------------------|---|
| What is the issue?          | During engine operation, a sealing cap at the fuel rail may fail to seal, allowing fuel to leak into the engine compartment. Leaking fuel, in the presence of an ignition source, may result in a fire.   |
| What will we do?            | To help identify/correct this defect, your authorized Volkswagen dealer will replace the fuel rail in your vehicle. This work will take about three (3) hours to complete and will be performed for you free of charge.   |
| What should you do?         | Please contact your authorized Volkswagen dealer without delay to schedule this recall repair. Please keep in mind that your dealer may need additional time for the preparation of the repair, as well as to accommodate their daily workshop schedule.  |
| Precautions you should take | Should a fuel rail leak occur, you may smell fuel in your vehicle. Additionally, if this happens, as pressure drops in the fuel rail the EPC warning light on the instrument panel may illuminate when fuel rail pressure cannot be maintained. If you can smell fuel in your vehicle, or if the EPC warning light comes on, proceed immediately to the nearest authorized Volkswagen dealer or qualified workshop if you believe that it is safe to do so in order to have the fuel system on the vehicle inspected. |
