Recall Number 15S09 - Reprogram Powertrain Control Module
and Description:

What is the Issue?

Powertrain
Malfunction light

On your vehicle, it may be possible for a single Exhaust Gas Temperature (EGT) sensor fault to result in a Stop Safely Now mode. If this occurs, an audible chime will sound, a "Stop Safely Now" message will be displayed in the instrument cluster, the Powertrain Malfunction light will illuminate, and the engine torque will be gradually reduced to a level that is maintained to allow the vehicle to be maneuvered to a safe location. When the vehicle speed is reduced to less than approximately one mile per hour, the system will shut the engine off and a cool down period begins that prevents the engine from being restarted for between 10 and 60 minutes, depending on environmental conditions. If this were to occur when an emergency vehicle is transporting a patient, it may delay medical treatment and increase the risk of injury to the patient.

What Are We Asking You To Do?

Please contact your dealer to schedule an appointment to have this important service procedure completed. If you do not already have a servicing dealer, you can access www.Fordowner.com for dealer addresses, maps and driving instructions.

The vehicle owner is responsible for having this service action performed. Ford Motor Company reserves the right to deny coverage for any vehicle damage that may result from failure to have this recall performed on a timely basis. Therefore, please have this recall performed as soon as possible.
