Subject: Takata Final Remedy Rollout – Repair Planning and Parts Supply
Phase-out for Audi Safety Recall 69N1 - TAKATA SDI Driver Inflator

Beginning this month, current (interim) Takata remedy airbag inflators will be phased out and final remedy parts will become available.

- As this changeover takes place, there will be a two-week period where no Takata recall repairs for the vehicles in Safety Recall 69N1 can be made. This two-week period is expected to begin on or about January 09, 2018.
- The Parts Team will be issuing a Special Notice to return the part numbers shown in the table below:

Part Number	Models
8R0 898 201	Audi Q5
8R0 898 201 A	Audi Q5
8F0 898 201	Audi A5 Cabriolet

- Under a new recall code, the final remedy parts, repair instructions will be available the week of January 22, 2018. Additional information will be provided as soon as it becomes available.
- In the interim, please reach out to all customers you have scheduled under 69N1. Inform them that the final recall remedy parts will be available starting the week of January 22, 2018, and reschedule for that week (or later). No allocation requests to the Parts Dealer Support Team will be honored prior to the final remedy.

IMPORTANT REMINDER ON VEHICLES AFFECTED BY SAFETY & COMPLIANCE RECALLS

New Vehicles in Dealer Inventory: It is a violation of Federal law for a dealer to deliver a new motor vehicle or any new or used item of motor vehicle equipment (including a tire) covered by this notification under a sale or lease until the defect or noncompliance is remedied. By law, dealers must correct, prior to delivery for sale or lease, any vehicle that fails to comply with an applicable Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard or that contains a defect relating to motor vehicle safety.

Pre-Owned Vehicles in Dealer Inventory: Dealers should not deliver any pre-owned vehicles in their inventory which are involved in a safety or compliance recall until the defect has been remedied.
