Dear [John Smith],

Nissan records indicate that your vehicle is subject to a safety recall. Nissan is currently preparing parts to remedy your vehicle. In the meantime, Nissan is asking you to follow the following precautions.

Reason for Recall

In some vehicles affected by this recall, the Anti-lock Brake System (ABS) actuator may leak brake fluid. If this occurs, the ABS warning lamp will illuminate and remain continually illuminated on the instrument panel. However, if this condition is ignored, the leak can potentially create an electrical short, and in rare instances, may lead to a fire.

What You Should Do

If the ABS warning lamp in your vehicle (shown to the right) illuminates continually for more than ten (10) seconds after engine start:

- 1. Please stop driving your vehicle immediately and call Nissan Roadside Assistance at 1-800-647-7261 (option 1) to arrange towing your vehicle to a Nissan dealer at no cost to you
- 2. Park your vehicle outdoors, away from other vehicles or structures

If your ABS warning lamp is continually illuminated and you require alternative transportation while your vehicle is being remedied, your Nissan dealer will make appropriate arrangements at no cost to you.

You may find your nearest dealer using this link: Dealer Locator

If the ABS warning lamp in your vehicle does not remain continually illuminated for more than ten (10) seconds after engine start, your vehicle is safe to drive and no immediate action is required.

Next Steps

In the coming weeks, you will also receive an interim recall notification letter. Nissan is currently preparing parts to remedy your vehicle. When parts become available, Nissan will send you a second recall letter asking you to bring your vehicle to a dealer for a remedy at no cost to you.
