 Campaign Summary *****

Nissan is conducting a voluntary safety recall campaign on the subject vehicles to replace the power steering high pressure hose. Due to a supplier issue that has since been corrected, an incorrect clamp diameter may allow power steering hose separation under certain conditions while driving. If this occurs, the customer may experience a gradual increase in steering effort due to loss of power steering fluid. However, in certain rare instances, if the power steering fluid leaks onto a heat source, it may lead to a thermal incident.
