Effective July 7, 2017, Recall 9516E and 0717A for the Takata Passenger Air Bag Inflator has transitioned from non-modified ("original") remedy parts to modified ("permanent") remedy parts.

Because of this transition, the last day dealers were able to order "original" repair parts EGY1-57-K80 and GSZL-57-K80 was July 7th. Repairs for 9516E and 0717A are permitted to continue until July 14, 2017 with original parts that are available in dealer inventory.

After July 14, 2017, do not perform any 9516E or 0717A recall repairs. Warranty claims for recall 9516E and 0717A repairs performed after July 14, 2017 will be rejected.

If you have a vehicle at your dealership that could not be repaired under 9516E or 0717A by the close of business July 14th, offer the customer an MCVP or rental vehicle.

Recall 1317F replaces recall 9516E and 0717A which is scheduled to launch the week of July 24, 2017.

Permanent remedy parts for 1317F will initially be available for certain vehicles in Zone A states. As parts become available, Recall 1317F will display OPEN in eMDCS for certain VINs in Zone A states. As additional parts become available, owners will be notified in phases.
