IMPORTANT SAFETY RECALL

Alternator Diode Thermal Fatigue

Dear [Name],

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

FCA has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain [2011-2014 model year (LC) Dodge Challenger, (LD) Dodge Charger, (LX) Chrysler 300, (WD) Dodge Durango and 2012-2014 model year (WK) Jeep Grand Cherokee vehicles equipped with electro-hydraulic power steering (EHPS) and a 3.6L engine (Sales Code ERB) or 5.7L engine (Sales Code EZH or ECZ) and a 160 Amp alternator (Sales Code BAB) or 180 Amp alternator (Sales Code BAD) or 220 Amp alternator (Sales Code BAJ).

It is extremely important to take steps now to repair your vehicle to ensure the safety of you and your passengers.

WHY DOES MY VEHICLE NEED REPAIRS?

The alternator on your vehicle ^[1] may experience diode thermal fatigue failure due to cyclical loads induced by EHPS. When the diodes fail, the alternator will no longer supply electrical energy to the vehicle and may lead to a vehicle stall without warning, increasing the risk of a crash. Failed diodes may also develop a resistive short circuit that can result in heat, smoke and/or fire originating within the alternator.

HOW DO I RESOLVE THIS IMPORTANT SAFETY ISSUE?

Parts to remedy this condition are not currently available. We are making every effort to obtain parts as quickly as possible, and will service your vehicle free of charge (parts and labor).

FCA US will contact you again, by mail, with a follow-up recall notice when the remedy and/or parts are available. Once you receive your follow-up notice, simply contact your Chrysler, Jeep®, Dodge or RAM dealer right away to schedule a service appointment ^[2].
