IMPORTANT SAFETY RECALL NOTICE

NHTSA Recall 17V795

This notice applies to your vehicle:

Safety Recall Action RA-18-0026 – Change to the Routing of the Battery Supply Cable

REASON FOR THIS RECALL ACTION

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Aston Martin has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists on a range of vehicles that were manufactured from July 2004 until July 2008.

In the affected models, it is possible in some circumstances that when the right front seat is operated to its fully rearward position that the seat runner can compress the battery supply cable. If the seat runner repeatedly compresses the cable, damage to the insulation of the cable can occur. When this happens, it is possible that the seat runner can conduct electricity from the battery supply cable. This can make a short circuit which can damage the wiring harness and cause smoke to appear in the passenger compartment.

The models affected are:

- DB9 (Coupe and Volante)
- DBS (Coupe and Volante)

WHAT WE WILL DO

We will install a cable guide onto the battery supply cable of all affected vehicles. This guide will move the battery supply cable to a different position so that it will not be possible for the seat runner to touch the cable. Also, the condition of the cable will be examined. If damage is found to the battery supply cable, more insulation will be applied to the cable. This work will be done at no cost to you.
