IMPORTANT SAFETY RECALL

Dear [CUSTOMER NAME],

Karma Automotive LLC is writing to notify you that TK Holdings Inc. ("Takata") has determined that a defect related to motor vehicle safety may arise in the passenger airbag inflator installed in Model Year ("MY") 2012 Fisker Karma vehicles due to propellant degradation occurring after prolonged exposure to high absolute humidity, high temperatures, and high temperature cycling. Activation of an airbag equipped with an inflator with degraded propellant may result in an inflator rupture. If an inflator rupture occurs, metal fragments could pass through the air bag cushion and into the vehicle interior at high speed, which could result in injury or death to a vehicle occupant.

Although Karma Automotive LLC does not have any legal duty to recall Fisker vehicles, in consultation with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration ("NHTSA"), and as a continued sign of goodwill, Karma Automotive LLC and its Service Providers have agreed to provide a free replacement for the passenger airbag inflators covered by the Takata determination that are installed in MY 2012 Fisker Karma vehicles¹.

According to our records, you are the owner of the MY 2012 Fisker Karma vehicle identified above. Please note that at a present time, we do not have replacement
