| What is the issue?                 | On your vehicle, certain flexible brake line assemblies located between the master cylinder and the Hydraulic Control Unit (HCU) may not have the specified anti-corrosion plating on some of the ferrules, which are coupling fittings that attach a rubber hose to metal tubes. |
| What is the risk?                  | A lack of anti-corrosion plating can lead to premature corrosion of the ferrules. This may result in brake fluid leakage, and reduced brake function, increasing the risk of a crash.   |
| What will Ford and your dealer do? | Ford Motor Company has authorized your dealer to replace the flexible brake line assemblies located between the master cylinder and the Hydraulic Control Unit (HCU) free of charge (parts and labor).  |
| How long will it take?             | The time needed for this repair is less than one-half day. However, due to service scheduling requirements, your dealer may need your vehicle for a longer period of time.  |
| What should you do?                | Please call your dealer without delay and request a service date for Recall 18S19. Provide the dealer with your VIN, which is printed near your name at the beginning of this letter.   |
