What is being recalled?

Micro Bird has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in certain Ford and GM, models MBII, G5 and T-Series, year models 2015-2018, manufactured between January 1st 2016 and April 1st 2018 and equipped with at least one shoulder belt anchorage plate installed in a lateral wall extrusion.

Why is it being recalled?

Micro Bird has determined that, in certain vehicles, the belt anchorage plate installed in a lateral wall extrusion may not be attached correctly, reducing the load it can sustain.

What is the safety issue?

In the event of a crash, the belt anchorage plate may become partially or totally detached, reducing the capacity of the shoulder belt to retain the passenger, resulting in an increased risk of injury or fatality.
