This supplements DENSO's Amended Part 573 Report of November 24, 2021 (20E-085) concerning the fuel pump assembly issue on certain Toyota, Honda, Subaru, Mazda, and Chrysler (FCA US LLC) vehicles.

This recall affects certain vehicles equipped with specific low pressure fuel pumps with an impeller which may become deformed under certain conditions which could render the fuel pump inoperable.

DENSO sells low pressure fuel pumps of similar but not identical design and construction to other vehicle manufacturers. The vehicles of the other vehicle manufacturers possess different fuel delivery systems, engine configurations, and other variables. DENSO is cooperating with other vehicle manufacturers' investigations. Recently Mazda made safety recall notification and implemented a safety recall 21V-875 for certain Mazda vehicles for a particular period. Additionally Chrysler (FCA US LLC) made safety recall notification and implemented a safety recall 21V-879 for certain substantially similar vehicles for a particular period. Thus, DENSO is amending its Part 573 Report for this recall (20E-085) to add the Mazda vehicles (population of 121,038) & Chrysler (FCA US LLC) vehicles (population of 1,622) to the affected population.

Chronology :

Amended to add:

November 2021

Mazda made safety recall notification and implemented a safety recall (21V-875) for certain Mazda vehicles for a particular period. Additionally Chrysler (FCA US LLC) made safety recall notification and implemented a safety recall (21V-879) for certain substantially similar vehicles for a particular period. Chrysler (FCA US LLC) is not a purchaser as such term is used in this document. DENSO revised the population within the safety recall notice 20E-085 to account for the additional population.

DENSO sells low pressure fuel pumps of similar but not identical design and construction to other vehicle manufacturers. The vehicles of the other vehicle manufacturers possess different fuel delivery systems, engine configurations, and other variables to those Toyota, Honda, Subaru, Mazda, and Chrysler (FCA US LLC) included in its recall. DENSO is cooperating with other vehicle manufacturers' analysis.
