Repair Available – Compliance Recall 06E7 - Owner's Manual Information – Tire Pressures

This notice is for:

✓ General Manager	✓ Parts Manager	✓ Technicians
✓ Sales Managers	✓ Service Advisor

Date: February 24 2022

Issue: The units for the values of the tire pressure table in the owner's manual (kPa and PSI) were assigned to the wrong columns and therefore do not match the actual numbers.

The tire pressure values on the B-pillar "Tire and Loading Information" label are correct; however, if a customer tries to inflate the tires solely according to the tire pressure table in the owner's manual, the tires could be either over- or under-inflated, which could lead to a negative effect on driving stability, potentially causing a loss of vehicle control which might lead to a crash.

- Repair:
- REPAIR AVAILABLE – February 25, 2022
 - To correct this noncompliance, Audi will mail an owner's manual insert that contains the corrected information regarding tire pressures to customers. If a customer prefers, they can visit an authorized Audi dealer to have the dealer place this insert in the vehicle. Dealers with affected vehicles in inventory should place a copy of the correct owner's manual insert into the glove box along with the owner's literature for the vehicle.
 - See ELSA/ServiceNet for complete repair & claiming instructions
 - Check daily campaign open inventory report or OMD for affected vehicles in inventory
 - Repair every affected inventory vehicle before delivery to consumers.
