Description of the Safety Risk : A steering gear with fewer than the required number of recirculating balls may bind when loads are applied. Loss of steering increases the likelihood of a crash

Description of the Cause : NR

Identification of Any Warning that can Occur : Preceding the internal fracture, the steering may be perceived as strained by the driver. No audible or visual warning is available.

Chronology :

TICO received a recall notice from RH Sheppard on the 6th of June 2022 stating that there were affected steering gear units they provided and a description of the condition. The quality and Warranty departments had agreed that there were affected units in TICO products, and it was a safety concern. TICO tractors were deemed compliant in reporting, and a recall was to be issued in support of safety concerns.

Description of Remedy :

Description of Remedy Program : TICO is requiring vehicles built within the TICO identified affected date range to be inspected for the Sheppard issue serial number. Once this serial number is given to TICO, via EDGE, we will cross reference with Sheppard and verify if it is an affected gear. If the steering gear falls under the recall, Sheppard and TICO will provide a new replacement gear at no cost to UPS. If the steering gear is not an affected serialized number, no further action is required. See the following Sheppard Identification Guideline for instructions on finding and recording the serial number. If during the campaign, we identify the 16 units requiring gear replacement before all trucks have been inspected, you will receive a notice that the campaign has ended. **
