Chronology :

On May 11, 2023, an issue pertaining to missing Owner's Manual content was brought to Ford's Critical Concern Review Group for review. The investigation determined that human error in Ford's Owner's Manual review process resulted in missing Owner's Manual information required by Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 202a, "Head Restraints."

On May 17, 2023, the CCRG found that required head restraint adjustment and removal information for the third-row center seating position on 2018-2023 model year Ford Expedition and Lincoln Navigator vehicles was missing from the vehicle Owner's Manuals. Additionally, the CCRG concluded that required head restraint adjustment and removal Owner's Manual content for the second-row center seating position was missing from 2019-2023 model year Ford Super Duty vehicles in all SuperCab configurations. Required head restraint adjustment and removal Owner's Manual content was also missing for the front row center seating position in 2019-2023 model year Ford Super Duty vehicles in all SuperCab and Regular Cab configurations equipped with a three passenger front bench seat.

Ford is not aware of any related warranty claims or field reports.
