

S 1000 R and S 1000 XR Programming Execution Break

BMW will be announcing a Safety Recall for S 1000 R and XR models that may have been programmed during a dealer visit since 4/3/2019.

A programming stop (execution break) for these models was implemented on Jan 20, 2023, to prevent further issues from potentially occurring.

The solution will be an I-Level update for these models in the coming weeks.

A bulletin is being produced and will be published soon.

If you have a situation where the bike absolutely needs to be programmed, a TSARA case will need to be created for these urgent cases.
