Vehicle Information :

Vehicle 1 : 2024-2025 Wabash RFCVHSC

Vehicle Type : TRAILERS

Body Style : VAN

Power Train : NR

Descriptive Information : The procedure for how the baserails were prepared for bonding was changed on 01/03/2023. There have been no reports of baserail separation prior to this date. This suspect procedure was halted on 04/19/2024 and reverted back to the procedure in place prior to 01/03/2023.

Production Dates : JAN 03, 2023 - MAY 07, 2024

VIN Range 1 : Begin : 1JVV532BXR319880 End : 1JVV532B2SM519982  Not sequentialDescription of Defect :

Description of the Defect : The baserails installed on certain refrigerated van trailers may become detached while being loaded, unloaded, or during operation

FMVSS 1 : NR

FMVSS 2 : NR

Description of the Safety Risk : Separation of the base rail and side wall could compromise the trailer floor. If such separation occurs while the vehicle is in operation, it compromises the floor, which could cause a shift or loss of cargo and could reduce operator control of the trailer, increasing the risk of a crash.

Description of the Cause : Due to insufficient preparation of the baserail, the adhesive bond between the baserail and side wall may weaken, potentially resulting in their separation.

Identification of Any Warning that can Occur : Without a visual inspection, there are no indications to this condition.

Involved Components :

Component Name 1 : Baserail

Component Description : Extruded Aluminum

Component Part Number : EC526172

Supplier Identification :

Component Manufacturer

Name : NR

Address : NR

NR

Country : NR

Chronology :

2/14/2024: Received the first report of baserail separation from the wall. Unit was reassembled, tested and sister units inspected in the field w/no early indications of failure.

2/27/2024: Opened root cause investigation.

3/29/2024: Received the second report of baserail separation from the wall. Unit was returned to the factory for further evaluation.
