What is the issue?

Certain high-voltage batteries may experience short circuits within the battery modules, which can lead to overheating or a fire.

What will we do?

Your dealer will be able to start performing this recall work on June 04, 2024. To correct this defect, your authorized Audi dealer will replace the affected high-voltage battery modules in your vehicle, free of charge. Once your dealer has all the necessary parts available, this work will take up to three (3) days to complete, depending on the number of modules requiring replacement. Please keep in mind that your dealer may need additional time for the preparation of the work, as well as to accommodate their daily workshop schedule.

What should you do?

Please contact your authorized Audi dealer without delay to schedule this recall work. For your convenience, you can also visit www.audiusa.com and click on the "Find a Dealer" link to locate a dealer near you and schedule this service.

Precautions you should take:

As a precaution, Audi recommends you set the maximum battery charge to 80%. This is an important measure to help protect the high-voltage battery modules in your vehicle until the recall remedy has been completed on your vehicle. Once the recall remedy has been completed on your vehicle, you will then be able resume charging normally.

As a reminder, your vehicle owner's manual contains important information regarding your vehicle's warning lights and messages. We encourage you and anyone who drives your vehicle to review the owner's manual to become familiar with the types of vehicle indicators, warnings and messaging you may see.
