This notice applies to your [Model Year] Hyundai Nexo vehicle, VIN: XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

Dear <FirstName LastName,>

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. Hyundai has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain 2019 – 2024 model year Nexo vehicles. Hyundai is initiating Safety Recall 269 to address a condition involving the Thermally-activated Pressure Relief Device (“TPRD”). Our records indicate that your vehicle, with the VIN listed above, is affected by this recall.

What is the problem?

The subject vehicles are equipped with a Thermally-activated Pressure Relief Device (“TPRD”) designed to vent gas through a glass bulb-type release mechanism that fractures when a specific operating temperature is reached. The affected TPRD could improperly fracture due to microcracks in the glass bulb-type mechanism, which could lead to hydrogen gas leaking during normal vehicle operation. Hydrogen gas leaking in the presence of an ignition source may increase the risk of a vehicle fire and injury to nearby personnel while parked.

What will Hyundai do?

Your Hyundai dealer will replace the TPRD. This procedure will be performed at NO CHARGE to you.

What should you do?

Owners are advised to park their vehicles outside and away from structures until the recall remedy is completed.

Please contact your nearest authorized Hyundai NEXO fuel cell vehicle dealer to schedule the recall repair as soon as possible.

The actual time required to perform the repair on your vehicle will take less than 4 hours, however, your vehicle may be needed longer.

NOTE: To limit repair delays, it is advised to bring your vehicle in with less than 50% fuel in the hydrogen tank. To schedule an appointment with your preferred authorized Hyundai NEXO fuel cell vehicle dealer, please call 1-855-371-9460 or visit:

1. www.hyundaiusa.com/campaignhome
2. Enter your 17-digit VIN from the top of this letter and click the “Search” button.
