WHAT IS THE PROBLEM?

On motorhomes affected by this recall campaign, the main engine exhaust tip can become detached in certain circumstances due to a REV RV weld failure on Ford chassis class A motor homes. A detached exhaust tip may allow exhaust fumes to enter the cabin. Exhaust fumes inside the cabin increases the risk of injury or death from carbon monoxide poisoning. In addition, a detached exhaust tip can become a road hazard for other road users, increasing the risk of a crash.

Identify any warning which can precede or occur:

NOTE: The carbon monoxide detector may alarm. The compartment liner melting may cause a detectable odor.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO?

Please make certain your motorhome is immediately inspected by contacting an authorized REV Recreation Group servicing dealer. If required, the dealer will install a clamp to properly secure the exhaust tip to the exhaust pipe.

For assistance locating an authorized REV Recreation Group servicing dealer, please call REV Recreation Group Owner Relations toll-free at: (800) 322-8216
