Porsche Recall AS2 / NHTSA ID 25V-221

Dear

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. Porsche has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain specific 2022 and 2023 model year Porsche Taycan vehicles.

What is the issue?

Porsche recently determined that, due to a manufacturing error, the front passenger seat occupant detection system may malfunction and deactivate the front passenger airbag when it should be enabled. If this occurs, it could increase a risk of injury to the passenger seat occupant in the event of a crash.

What will Porsche do?

To remedy this issue, your Porsche Center will replace the front passenger seat cushion at no charge to you. The remedy will take approximately one day to complete, but it may be necessary to make your vehicle available to your Porsche Center for a longer period of time. Your Porsche Center will arrange for alternate transportation if necessary.

What should you do?

The remedy for this Recall is now available. Please contact any authorized Porsche Center to schedule an appointment to have this recall performed as soon as possible.

Until the remedy is carried out, if a red air bag warning lamp is illuminated, Porsche advises you to bring your vehicle to your Porsche Center immediately and have any front seat passengers move to the rear seat.
