What is the reason for this program?

The front suspension upper knuckle joint may crack, which in extreme cases, can result in suspension arm detachment.

Suspension arm detachment can cause a loss of vehicle handling and control, increasing the risk of a crash.

What are the warning signs of this condition?

When a crack starts, knocking noises from the front of the vehicle may be heard. Where the detachment of the suspension arm occurs, it may collide with the air suspension spring and other inner fender parts. Steering feel may also be impacted.

Are there any precautions that may be taken to minimize the safety risk until the corrective measures are implemented?

Until such time as the recall repair has been completed, should unusual noises be heard such as knocking from the front of the vehicle, customers are advised to contact a JLR retailer /authorized repairer to have this investigated.

What will Land Rover and your authorized Land Rover Retailer do?

Your Land Rover Retailer will inspect each front suspension knuckles to ascertain if it is an at-risk part or a previous level of part which is deemed not to pose a risk. If the latter, no action will be taken for that knuckle. If the part is an at-risk part, the technician will further inspect the suspension knuckle for the presence of any cracks. Where no cracks are present a retaining bracket will be installed to the joint. Where cracks are found, the front suspension knuckle will be replaced.
