Dear (

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Safety Recall Action RA-41-2086 – DBX Rear Lower Suspension Arm Bolt

REASON FOR THIS RECALL ACTION

Aston Martin has determined that DBX, DBX707 and DBX S vehicles built between October 2019 and September 2025 may have a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety.

On affected vehicles, the rear suspension lower torque reaction link locking bolt has a reduced diameter on the shank of the bolt. On affected vehicles a failure of this bolt can result in the failure of the rear lower suspension arm which can affect the handling of the vehicle and increase the risk of a crash.

The models affected are:

- 2021 to 2024 DBX
- 2023 to 2026 DBX707
- 2026 DBX S

WHAT WE WILL DO

Aston Martin will inspect the lower rear suspension arms for cracks, and as necessary, replace the lower rear arms, and replace the bolts for the torque reaction links, free of charge.
