RE: BODY SERIAL «BODY_SERIAL» CHASSIS SERIAL «CHASSIS_SERIAL»

Dear Owner,

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

DESCRIPTION OF DEFECT

Winnebago Motorhomes has decided that a defect related to motor vehicle safety exists on certain 2022 – 2027 Winnebago Ekko. These vehicles were manufactured January 14, 2021, through April 16, 2026. These dates are a broad overview and non-sequential. It is advised that you park the vehicle outside until the repair has been performed.

Defect: On these vehicles the touchscreen display, running firmware version 101.000067 or earlier, permits a level of touch sensitivity that may register unintended inputs, causing the display to transmit a generator start command without deliberate operator input.

SAFETY RISK

An unintended generator start may result in exposure to carbon monoxide accumulation in enclosed or inadequately ventilated spaces, which can cause serious injury or death from carbon monoxide poisoning.

REMEDY – WHAT WE WILL DO

Winnebago Motorhomes has authorized your dealer to update the Precision Circuits touchscreen display firmware free of charge (parts and labor).

This remedy will be performed at no charge to you.

The estimated labor time to complete this correction is approximately 1 hour.
However, due to service scheduling requirements, your dealer may need your vehicle for a longer period of time.
