

OWNER'S LETTER

For non-California owners

Dear Nissan Owner:

Nissan has discovered that your 2009 model year GT-R is equipped with an improperly functioning On-Board Diagnostics (OBD) System. The completion rate of the evaporative emission monitor is not currently meeting the in-use monitoring requirements.

What Nissan Will Do

To correct this condition, Nissan is conducting a Voluntary Emission Recall Campaign to reprogram the Engine Control Module (ECM). This free service should take about one hour to complete, but your certified Nissan GT-R dealer may require your vehicle for a longer period of time based upon their work schedule.

What You Should Do

Contact your certified Nissan GT-R dealer at your convenience in order to arrange an appointment to have your vehicle repaired. Please bring this notice with you when you keep your service appointment. Instructions have been sent to your certified Nissan GT-R dealer.

If the retailer fails, or is unable to complete the modifications free of charge, you may contact the National Consumer Affairs Office, Nissan North America, Inc. at P.O Box 685003 Franklin, TN 37068-5003. The toll free number is 1-800-NISSAN1 (1-800-647-7261).

Thank you for your cooperation. We are indeed sorry for any inconvenience this may cause you.

For California owners

Dear Nissan Owner:

Nissan has discovered that your 2009 model year GT-R is equipped with an improperly functioning On-Board Diagnostics (OBD) System. The completion rate of the evaporative emission monitor is not currently meeting the in-use monitoring requirements. This has no effect on fuel consumption, driveability, performance, or safety.

What Nissan Will Do

To correct this condition, Nissan is conducting a Voluntary Emission Recall Campaign to reprogram the Engine Control Module (ECM). This free service should take about one hour to complete, but your certified Nissan GT-R dealer may require your vehicle for a longer period of time based upon their work schedule.

Vehicles will be eligible for this Voluntary Emission Recall Campaign regardless of whether non-original parts were used for service and repairs, or if service was done by a repair facility other than a certified Nissan GT-R dealer.

What You Should Do

California law requires that you have this Voluntary Emission Recall Campaign performed before you can renew the registration on your vehicle. Your dealer will provide you with a certificate showing that the Recall Campaign repairs have been completed on your vehicle. You may need to mail this certificate with your next registration renewal, so be sure to keep it.

You should also be aware that if your vehicle is not repaired it may fail a Smog Check test in those areas of California where such testing is required under state law.

In order to ensure your full protection under the emission warranty provisions, it is recommended that you have your vehicle serviced as soon as possible by your certified Nissan GT-R dealer. Failure to do so could be determined as lack of proper maintenance of your vehicle.
