

OWNER'S LETTER (example of typical owner's letter)

Dear Nissan Rogue owner:

Nissan is committed to providing the highest levels of product quality and customer satisfaction. With that in mind, we want to bring to your attention important information regarding your 2008 – 2009 Nissan Rogue.

Reason for Service Campaign

The material used in the nut on your Rogue that secures the Tire Pressure Monitoring System (TPMS) sensor to the wheel may corrode and potentially crack if driven regularly in areas where heavy concentrations of road salt is being used during the winter. If this occurs, the nut may come out of the sensor causing the TPMS lamp to illuminate. If the TPMS lamp is disregarded and the vehicle continues to be driven in this condition, the tire can quickly lose air pressure resulting in a flat tire.

Nissan is conducting a safety recall campaign on vehicles registered in those States that regularly use heavy concentrations of road salt including:

Connecticut	Maine	Missouri	Pennsylvania
Delaware	Maryland	New Hampshire	Rhode Island
District of Columbia	Massachusetts	New Jersey	Vermont
Illinois	Michigan	New York	West Virginia
Indiana	Minnesota	Ohio	Wisconsin
Iowa

According to our records, your Rogue is not registered in one of these States and is not subject to the safety recall campaign. However, you may regularly drive in one or more of these States when heavy concentrations of road salt are being used. Therefore, Nissan is conducting this service campaign to replace, if requested, the TPMS nuts on your vehicle free of charge for part and labor, even if your vehicle is not subject to the safety recall campaign.

What Nissan Will Do

At your request, your Nissan dealer will replace the TPMS nuts on your vehicle with new, more corrosion resistant ones. This free service should take about an hour to complete, but your Nissan dealer may require your vehicle for a longer period of time based upon the dealer's work schedule.

What You Should Do

If you wish to have the TPMS nuts on your vehicle replaced, please contact your Nissan dealer at your earliest convenience in order to arrange an appointment. Please bring this notice with you to your service appointment. Instructions have been sent to your Nissan dealer.
