Power Steering Lines

Vehicle Type: Panamera (970)

Model Year: 2010 - 2012

Concern: Power steering lines may be leaking at the power steering rack.

Work Procedure: The power steering lines at the steering rack may leak due to a damaged o-ring(s). The o-ring damage results from an imperfection in the line.

Replacing the o-rings alone is not sufficient to repair the concern; the line must be replaced as well. Note however that it is not necessary to replace the steering rack.

New lines and o-rings are ordered together. The o-rings are no longer available separately in PET. Only the new lines and o-rings should be used during repairs. Be sure to refer to PET for the latest parts information before placing your parts order.
