SERVICE BULLETIN

APPLICABILITY: 2013MY Legacy and Outback with a Backup Camera

NUMBER: 15-156-12R

DATE: 08/20/12

REVISED: 11/02/12

SUBJECT: Deletion of Compass Mirror

INTRODUCTION

2013 Model Year Outback and Legacy vehicles equipped with a backup camera no longer have a compass feature available in the factory installed auto-dimming mirror. In the event a customer requires a compass feature in an auto-dimming mirror, the factory installed mirror on some trim levels may be replaced with an auto-dimming compass mirror with HomeLink. This mirror is different from our standard accessory mirror offered for 2013 Outback and Legacy vehicles. Please reference the following chart for applicability and part numbers. Installation of the HomeLink mirror should be treated as any other accessory installation request by the customer and is not a matter for warranty.

NOTE: Customers must be made aware none of the mirrors on the chart below include a backup camera display. Therefore, the customer must choose between a backup camera or compass display. Subaru does not offer a replacement mirror with both features for 2013MY Legacy or Outback.

Warning: There is no accessory mirror that can be installed in vehicles equipped with EyeSight. The OE mirror on an EyeSight vehicle should not be modified or extended.

INSTALLATION INFORMATION

For mirror installation, remove the OE mirror by first disconnecting the wire harness from the back of the mirror. Loosen the Torx® screw then slide the mirror upward and off of the windshield mirror mount.

Install the replacement mirror by sliding it down onto the windshield mirror mount. Then tighten the Torx screw to 13.3 – 17.7 in-lbs., and re-connect the wire harness to the back of the mirror.
