Re: Parts Situation F56 Oil Cooler #3

Fellow Motorers,

What better way to start a week off then with good news.

105 parts will be shipped today via Fed Ex to arrive at your dealerships by tomorrow morning. This was more than originally planned!

Per updated SIB M11 01 14 the oil pan drain plug seal is no longer necessary for this repair. Therefore, the drain plug seal (part number 9 963 132) will not be included in part shipments for this repair as of 4/14/14.

Later this week, another 159 parts will arrive into our regional distribution centers and be allocated immediately to hopefully arrive into your dealerships by Saturday (4/19). This means that all the affected F56 in dealer inventory should have parts to repair them in your hands by Saturday.

We are also expecting another 318 parts to arrive into VDC inventory by Monday (4/21) at which point they will begin promptly repairing and wholesaling cars.

Please note, not all shipments will use the VIN as the PO, some will use F56Repairx as the PO.

We will send another update on Wednesday, April 16th.

Please do not attempt to order these parts as all orders will be placed for you.

Thank you,
